GERMANY IN NO PLEA FOR FORGIVENESS, IS MESSAGE

Dernberg Sends Defiant Note To Argentine Representative

DEFI TO WORLD

Measures Used In War Are Defended By Ex-diplomat

(Wireless Service)

Geneva, November 27.—A letter from Bernard Dernberg to Foreign Minister Puerryton, of Argentina, occupied the League of Nations' delegates as a topic of conversation today.

Dernberg declared that Germany refuses to accept greater responsibility than the Allies for the war.

Some of the delegates considered it as a preliminary to a formal demand for Germany's immediate admission into the League. If such a demand is made there is danger of a serious disruption on account of the temper of some of the delegates. Dernberg says further:

"I could (not ?) condemn the sinking of the Lusitania without showing disloyalty to my country."

Regarding measures used, Dernberg says:

"We are willing to prove that the means and measures used by Germany in the war were neither in proportion nor kind worse nor more criminal than those used by our adversaries."

In conclusion Dernberg states, "Germany neither seeks excuses nor asks for forgiveness from others for ourselves."

GUATEMALA SEEKS LAND DEVELOPMENT

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Guatemala, October 17 (by mail).—The President of Guatemala, Don Carlos Herrera, has undertaken to interest foreign capital in the development of some 15,000 square miles of unexploited territory which still awaits the hand of the pioneer. As the first step he has created a Department of Agriculture and has given the new Portfolio to Senor Antonio Bouscayol.

Both the President and the new Minister have devoted the greater part of their lives to agricultural development and are therefore keenly interested in giving encouragement to farmers and planters. Both realise that foreign investment must be encouraged in order to accomplish this end, and believe that such aid must be expected as a result of diffusion of the knowledge that Guatemala has a safe and sane Government, is a fit place to live in and has much undeveloped territory.

Many Germans Are Anxious To Enter America, Is Report

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 7 (by mail).—Emigration from Germany to the United States will be tremendous if no barrier is raised by the latter country when peace is finally signed, according to reports reaching Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, upon whose staff of American doctors rests the responsibility of medically examining every emigrant bound for America.

The Germans wish to emigrate, according to Dr. Blue's reports, because of the high cost of living and the heavy taxes that will be levied for many years to come.

Wholesale emigration from Germany to the United States is impossible now because the two countries are still technically at war, but Commissioner Dresel at Berlin is allowed to vise a maximum of 25 German passports weekly.

Allied Premiers Confer On German Reparations And Policy In Greece

(French Wireless Service)

Paris, November 27.—The first conference between the British and French Premiers was held at 10 Downing Street at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Paul Cambon and Philippe Berthelot, for France, and Mr. Bonar Law and Lord Curzon, for Great Britain, were present at the interview, which, it is officially stated, was marked by the greatest cordiality and the most lively desire to come to an agreement.

The Petit Parisien publishes a statement by M. Georges Leygues, who, the journal remarks, has not gone to London solely in connection with the Greek situation, but to examine many other questions of import to Great Britain and France.

SEEK GREEK POLICY

The French Premier is quoted as declaring that Mr. Lloyd George and he desired to agree on a common Greek policy, with Count Sforza, the Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs, who has already left Rome for London. Only of the advisability of issuing a joint official declaration of policy towards Greece is there any difference of opinion between the British and French Governments, M. Leygues is reported to have said.

According to the Petit Parisien, M. Leygues stated that he favored a waiting policy rather than "discreet diplomatic pressure" towards Greece, and he enumerated the arguments which had led him to this conclusion.

GERMAN REPARATIONS

The French newspapers state that two further questions were discussed at yesterday's conference:

(1) German reparations, with regard to which a complete understanding is said to have been reached on the procedure to be followed and

(2) The possibility of replacing the Entente Cordiale by an Anglo-French Alliance, which was brought into the realm of practical politics by Lord Derby's recent speech at the Guildhall.

It is confirmed that the Greek Premier, M. Rhallys may proceed to London to receive the Allies' announcement of policy.

Paris, Nov. 28.—The French Press states that the date of the forthcoming Inter-Allied Conference of Experts at Brussels (on Reparations) will no doubt be fixed at tomorrow's conference between Mr. Lloyd George and M. Leygues.

ITALY REPRESENTED

Paris, Nov. 28.—Count Sforza, the Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs, has arrived in Paris en route for London. He had an interview with President Millerand at the Elysee this morning.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 28.—The exchange of views between the British and French Premiers is continuing. A meeting was held at 10 Downing Street yesterday afternoon and lasted a couple of hours. The conference than adjoured till Monday, when Count Sforza, the Italian Minister for Foreign Affairs, will be able to attend.

British and French circles are equally satisfied with the progress already made in these preliminary negotiations, and the conviction is general that the present reconciliation of the British and French standpoints will lead to the adoption of a definite policy acceptable to all parties concerned.

EX-KING CONCILIATORY

Paris, November 27.—According to press reports published here, ex-King Constantine is said to contemplate arranging for the issue of a declaration to the Allied Governments that the present Greek Government is firmly resolved to continue M. Venizelos' foreign policy, in close and loyal collaboration with France and Great Britain.

The ex-Crown Prince of Greece has left Bukharest for Switzerland, at his mother's request.

Violent speeches denouncing Constantine and swearing undying fidelity to M. Venizelos are reported to have been delivered by repre-

CHINESE PRESS CHARGES FRAUD IN FAMINE TAX

Demands Foreign And Native Supervision Over Distribution

ALLEGES CORRUPTION

Asserts That Chiaotung Clique Plans To Use Money In Politics

Allegations of corruption and the misuse of the famine surtax by Chinese officials in charge of its collection and distribution are being made by local Chinese merchants and the local Chinese press. Reports are being made in which a strict supervision by a foreign and Chinese overseeing body is asked.

The Peking corresponderit of the Sin Wan Pao yesterday alleged that the surtax loans will be utilised by the old Chiaotung Clique to control the next election. The paper expressed great alarra at the alleged intention of the political clique and issued a call for strict supervision of the money raised and asked details regarding its distribution.

MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS

Mr. Tien Shih-ling, president of the Chinese Lumber Association and one of the directors of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, has introduced five resolutions before the meeting of the International Famine Relief Committee in this connection:

1. That the period of the surtax in force should be specified.
2. That the estimates made in the various branches of government revenues to which the surtax is applicable be published in tabular form.
3. That the surtax be set aside from the regular tax funds and deposited with specially designated banks upon its receipt.
4. That periodical reports be made by the collecting bureaus as to the amount of money collected. The bureaus should include the local agencies, the provincial departments and the Ministries of Communications and Finance. Final reports should be published in the Government Gazette.
5. That the distributing agencies should detail their activities in accordance with the number of sufferers, houses and districts handled by each and show the amounts distributed. Periodical reports should be made in a manner similar to those of the collecting bureaus.

TO PLAY POLITICS

Mr. Tien's resolutions have been endorsed by a number of members of the committee.

Under the present conditions, it is charged, collecting and distributing agencies may pocket any amount of money intended for the sufferers and convert it to their own use.

The old Chiaotung clique is alleged to be securing a large rake-off on the new surtax loan. Besides, it has planned, it is further alleged, to make use of the majority of the funds to play politics in the coming election, realising what money could do at the last election. The Anfu Parliament, it was charged, was formed through the proceeds of the notorious opium deal.

On behalf of the Canadian Presbyterian missionaries in Honan, Mrs. D. MacGillivray wishes to acknowledge with thanks the following contributions for famine relief. A Disciple, $15; Butter money of the Shanghai American School Scholars, $17.60; Proceeds of play given by Shanghai American School Scholars, $35.00; Rev. C. E. Patton, $40.00; Miss Mildred Walkins, $48.00; Dr. and Mrs. Davenport, $20.00, and Susie Wong, $10.00.

Thereupon many farmers uprooted their wheat to make room for poppy, although Shensi is appealing for aid for two million famine-stricken inhabitants.

Dominions Problems Same As America's Declares Senator Lodge

(Wireless Service)

Philadelphia, Nov. 27.—In a speech here, Senator Lodge advocated that arrangements be made by the United States with Canada, Australia and New Zealand regarding the Asiatic question of immigration. The Senator said:

"Their danger is the same as ours, while the shadow hangs darkest over Australia.

"We must face it.

"It must be understood that it is not showing hostility to any nation, but certain principles must be accepted. No nation has the right nor can find excuse for war with the demand that her people shall be permitted to emigrate to another free country, for, as the first sovereign right of that country, she shall say who may and who may not come into that country."

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 28.—In a telegram sent in reply to the protest of Gov. Thomas Campbell, of Arizona, against the execution of the proposed treaty with Japan, Secretary of State Colby said that negotiations proceeding between the United States and Japan would be discussed informally with the Senate and House committees before any action would be taken. He pointed out that the negotiations which were, "informal and tentative" had, however, "not yet reached the point of discussion and formal consideration."

CHINESE ORDER CLOSES RUSSIAN POSTAL OFFICES

The order for the suspension of the Russian postal service also extends to the postal savings department, but it is announced that this department will be taken over and administered by the local Chinese authorities. The postal savings department of the Russian post office here has over 400 depositors.

The Russian post office staff is at present engaged in winding up the affairs of the agency, making final reports and preparing to turn matters over to the Chinese authorities, who have expressed a desire to open up a branch office. It is expected that these final arrangements will take about a month.

CHARGE EDITOR WITH LIBEL; IN U.S. COURT TODAY

Criminal Action Filed Against G. W. Messimer Of 'China Observer'

DEFENDANT BAILED

Editorial Attack On Mr. W. S. Fleming Is Bais Of Complaint

Mr. George W. Messimer, editor of the China Observer, was released on cash bail of $1,000 late yesterday after a warrant for his arrest on a charge of criminal libel had been issued from the United States Court for China. The warrant was based upon an information that was filed by Maj. C. P. Holcomb, United States District Attorney, but was not executed, as the accused editor, when apprised of the proceedings started against him, surrendered himself to United States Commissioner F. J. Schuhl, who fixed the amount of the bail.

MR. FLEMING COMPLAINANT

Mr. William S. Fleming, of the law firm of Messrs. Fleming, Davies and Bryan, is complainant in the case which grows out of an article that is published in the current issue of the China Observer. The paper in question is a weekly and has been announced to be the official Italian organ of Shanghai. The article objected to is a semi-editorial report on a Mixed Court case that has attracted considerable public interest.

ARGUMENTS WITH FISCHER

This case is one wherein four Chinese are being tried on a charge of feloniously seizing $1,120 worth of opium. The charge is brought by a Chinese who claims to have helped arrange for its landing from a ship here and Dr. J. O. Fischer appears for the prosecution, Mr. Fleming defending. On the last two hearings of the action there have been brisk passages at arms between the two attorneys frequent and heated.

THE ALLEGED ARTICLE

The China Observer's article, alleged to be libelous, refers to one of these clashes between Mr. Fleming and Doctor Fischer and quotes Mr. Fleming as having said, "Doctor Fischer is an Austrian; he is one of the enemies of our country and an enemy of China." This remark is the subject of considerable caustic editorial comment in the article wherein comments are made upon matters pertaining to Mr. Fleming's practice as an attorney in the period before the war.

PRELIMINARY HEARING

The information filed charges that assertions published in the article are false, malicious and scandalous. It is probable that a preliminary hearing in the case may be opened today before United States Commissioner Schuhl. It is understood that Mr. Sterling Fessenden of the firm of Messrs. Jernigan, Fessenden, Rose and Holcomb will appear for the prosecution with Major Holcomb.

Head Of "Irish Republic" Under Arrest At Dublin

(Reuter's Service)

London, November 26.—Mr. Arthur Griffiths, "Acting President of the Irish Republic" has been arrested in Dublin and taken to an unknown destination.

Others who have been arrested in Dublin are Professor John McNeil, and two Sinn Fein members of Parliament; Mr. Joseph McBride, member for West Mayo, and Mr. B. J. Duggan, member for South Meath.

In the House of Commons today, Sir Hamar Greenwood, the Irish Secretary, said that in the course of systematic raids in Dublin, Mr. Griffiths's house had been raided, and a quantity of documents found, which necessitated further investigation, and Mr. Griffiths was being detained, pending the result.

Today's arrests of Sinn Fein leaders has caused a tremendous sensation in Dublin, where the arrest of Mr. Griffiths is regarded as of the highest importance. It is recalled that when he went to Paris in July he declared in an interview:

"We have accepted aid from Germany, and will accept aid from anyone as long as we are under the English yoke.

FEELING OF PANIC

The frequent tragedies in Dublin have created a panicky feeling. Since Sunday morning the deaths in Dublin total 35. The process of combing out the city for those "wanted" is being continued relentlessly day and night. Some hundreds have been arrested, but many of them have quickly been released.

It is authoritatively declared that, owing to the congestion of the prisons, those arrested will be confined in strongly guarded interment camps, and that other arrests will follow, as soon as these camps are ready.

Another mysterious bomb explosion occurred at Cork this morning. The scene was a coffin-maker's works. Two men who were working at a bench were

Soviet Looks On Peace Treaty Like That Made At Brest-Litovsk, Is Opinion Of Observer

(U. S. Naval Radio)

BY CARL VON WEIGAND

(Universal Service Correspondence)

Lyons, France, November 27 to New Brunswick, N. J. (Intercepted).—"Soviet Russia looks upon the Riga peace with Poland as a second Brest-Litovsk peace and it need cause no surprise if Moscow, acts accordingly against Polish imperialism when she is in a position to effectively do so."

This is the declaration of Enver Pasha who has returned from Baku, via Moscow and Petrograd and Reval, after a few days visit with his family has departed again for the scene of action.

Is Russia considering the reopening of hostilities in the Spring or even sooner?

That's the question that's agitating and worrying more than one European chancelory.

MESSAGE FROM LEADER

Cumulative reports from many sources tell of growing tension between the Russians and Poles and increasing concentration of the Red Forces on the Western Frontier.

A despatch from Warsaw today asserts that the Polish general staff is carefully reckoning on the opening of war.

In a radiogram to Tchitcherin I called his attention to those reports and asked him what truth there was in the story that Moscow is counting on a resumption of war with Poland. He replied today but it is a diplomatic reply, however, about twenty words being missing in the text:

"Moscow—One must expect now that last hirelings of the entente against Russia having been ignominously defeated new provocative circulars tending to confuse the situation will be distributed by the miserable remnants of the Russian counter-revolutionists abroad and their masters. Alleged rumors referred to in your radio belong to that category.

CABINET CHANGES

Paris, November 27.—The French press understands that Prince Sapieha, Polish Minister for Foreign Affairs, recently sent a wireless message to M. Tchitcherin, the Bolshevik Commissary for Foreign Affairs, proposing that the date of the signature of the definitive treaty between Poland and Russia should be fixed forthwith.

The newspapers forecast that the resignation of the Polish Minister of Finance will bring about a reshuffling of Cabinet portfolios, connoting an important change of policy.

New Civil Governor Of Hupeh Given Ovation By People At Hankow

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, November 29.—The Premier has sent a telegram to Wang Chang-yuan, the Tuchun of Hupeh, urging him to co-operate with Hsia Shou-kang, the new Civil Governor, and has also instructed Sun Chen-hsia, the retiring Civil Governor, to proceed to Peking to take up his new post as Metropolitan Governor.

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, November 24.—Hupeh has got for the first time a man of its own choice, Mr. Hsia Shou-kang, for Civil Governor in succession to a relative of Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan. Hsia arrived at Hankow Monday morning.

On the occasion of his arrival, about 2,000 people, including delegates from local organisations, thronged at the railway station to greet the new Civil Governor. It was a popular demonstration the people carrying pennants bearing such inscriptions as "Protect our Province" "Don't Be Afraid of the Militarists, We Are Back of You," "We want the Tuchunate Abolished," "We Desire Popular Rule," and others.

PAYS OFFICIAL CALLS

Mr. Hsia went to Wuchang immediately, and was taken to the Tuchun's Yamen by a carriage provided by Mr. Chu Hsin-chien, the Speaker of the Provincial Assembly. First he called on the Tuchun, then he met the former Tuchun, then he met the former civil governor, Mr. Sun Chen-chia, and their interview was said to be very satisfactory. This morning Hsia assumed his office by a simple ceremony. Mr. Sun Chen-chia handed over the charge to Hsia and thus the dispute between Sun Chen-chia, supported by militarists, and Hsia Shou-kang, backed by the people, has been peacefully settled.

Mr. Hsia Shou-kang was formerly Secretary to Ex-President Li Yuan-hung during the first Revolution and later when General Li was Vice-President of the Republic. Later he was judge of the Metropolitan Court. He is a man of the old school, but nevertheless is popular among his fellow provincials.

The story of his appointment is full of interest. To tell it briefly, it was a struggle between militarism and popular wish.

STORY OF APPOINTMENT

Tuchun Wang promptly installed his relative Mr. Sun Chen-chia in the post of civil governorship of Hupeh as soon as it was vacated by the Anfu civil governor, Mr. Ho Pei-yung, on the fall of the Anfu clique. A mandate was issued at Peking appointing Sun Civil Governor of Hupeh. Then it looked as if there were no possibility of any further change in the appointment.

Unexpectedly there came the popular clamor among Hupeh gentry who, headed by Ex-President Li Yuan-hung and Ex-Premier Chow Shu-mou, both natives of Hupeh, demanded that Hupeh should be governed by Hupehese, hence the slogan "Hupeh for Hupehese." This cry came from Peking and Tientsin but it was soon joined by people in this center who most eagerly desire the removal of the dominating influence of the militarists in this province under the leadership of the Tuchun, a native of Shantung province.

Gradually this popular desire gained considerable headway. The Hupeh Provincial Assembly of Wuchang decided to send delegates to Peking to welcome Hsia to Wuchang. Leaders in Peking added their influence by urging the President to issue another Presidential mandate appointing Hsia Shou-kang Civil Governor of Hupeh, and accordingly a Presidential Mandate to this effect was issued.

MILITARISTS QUIT

Such being the situation, the probability then was that unless Tuchun Wang retired from the game, he was doomed to lose "face" in insisting on having his relative in the post. Tuchun Wang, being aware of the situation, apparently only took slight interest in the dispute. However, he ordered his underlings and officials to file protest against the appointment of another civil governor to succeed Mr. Sun, who had just been appointed. Telegrams were sent to Peking, but they were to no purpose. Seeing no hope of mending the situation, the militarists began to realise necessity of keeping quiet.

At first Hsia hesitated at Peking and his coming to Hankow was urged by delegates from Hupeh and Hupeh officials in Peking. He was a bit afraid of opposition from militarists which might cause disturbance. But he was assured at Peking of the support of Hupeh. Besides, people in this center sent several telegrams expressing their desire for his coming.

At present it seems everything is going on smoothly. The militarists are beginning to show good will to the new civil governor. But whether Hsia Shou-kang can work in harmony with the Tuchun and militarists or not remains to be seen.

BRITAIN PLANS NO EXPANSION IN CENTRAL ASIA

Lord Curzon Says Future Will Be Devoted To Higher Development

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 14.—(by mail).—The expansion of the British Empire in Central Asia is at an end and rightly so, Lord Curzon, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, told the Central Asian Society in an address last night.

The function of Great Britain in the future, he added, was not to absorb territory there, but to give security and to arrange that the revolution to a different and higher state of things should be easy.

The great bulk of Central Asia, he said, had been thrown into the vortex of European politics. The Russian Empire, which Englishmen had once regarded with apprehension, had been, for the moment, obliterated from the scene. China was in the throes of a military crisis, the upshot of which no one could foresee. Afghanistan had acquired something like independence.

All India was seething with agitation and trying to establish some new form of Government. In Tibet, the British had been welcomed as friends.

He advocated the setting up of an Arab form of administration in Mesopotamia and said Sir Percy Cox had gone out to assist in carrying on that work. He hoped for some form of Arabian unity which would gratify the ambitions of the Arabs.

In Afghanistan there was serious trouble and commotion. The Secretary said he knew of no country in Central Asia where the Bolsheviki had greater hopes of causing trouble for Great Britain, yet he regarded the interests of Afghanistan as identical with those of Britain. It might take years before the commotion in Asia subsided, and no one should suppose that the work of Englishmen in those countries was over.

Defenders Of Urga Face Starvation As Three Armies Approach City

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, November 24.—Captain Mamaji Ezoe, Japanese Military Agent at Urga, who arrived at Peking on November 22 to make arrangements for the withdrawal of Japanese residents from Urga, has given Reuter the following account of the situation at Urga:

"Urga is now encircled on three sides by the Russians and Mongolians. Three forces, 2,700 to 3,000 strong in all, are advancing on Urga from East, West and North, keeping in touch with each other.

"The defence force at Urga now consists of a mixed brigade, 4,000 strong, and a cavalry regiment, 500 strong. The former is stationed at Urga under the command of General Chu Chi-hsiang, while the latter is at Karha and is commanded by General Kao Tsai-tien. They are daily receving reinforcements from Kalgan, Suiyuan and other directions.

"Karha and its vicinity on the Kiakhat-Urga rond is the granary for the besieged capital of Outer Mongolia. There are now only two weeks' provisions at Urga, and every effort is being made to get as much food supplies as possible from Karha and other places. As the Russians are well aware of the fact, they attacked Karha some time ago and reduced to ashes parts of the place.

WIRES ARE CUT

"The Russians have also pulled down fifty telegraph poles along the Kiakhta-Urga route to cut off communication between the two important centers.

"Neither the composition nor the object of the attacking forces on Urga is quite clear, but there are reasons to believe that the forces are composed of part of Baron Ungern's army, Buriats and the Mongolian independents, and that the motive was one of revenge for the massacre of Mongolian Independents by the Chinese at Kiakhta last spring.

"It is probable that the operations are not personally directed by Ungern who is reported to be now concentrating his forces at Mengjikoye, 200 miles south-east of Kiakhta.

"On October 24, prior to the engagement of October 26, the attacking forces sent a letter of censure in the name of Baron Ungern to the Chinese at Urga accusing the latter of injustice to the Mongolians and Buriats.

HEAVY FIGHTING

"Next came the heavy fighting on October 26. Severe fighting continued from October 30 to November 4, during which a reign of terror prevailed in the city. Shells and bullets poured into the streets.

"All residents were strictly ordered not to go out of their houses. Anyone in the streets was ruthlessly attacked and detained by the Chinese, who were afraid of the possible outbreak of disturbances within the city, in response to the attack from outside. After six days' fighting, the attackers withdrew 20 miles from the city.

"They maintained strict discipline during these operations and indulged in no looting, but from the military point of view, they were not skilful in tactics or operations.

"If the attacking force had pushed their attempt on October 26 a little further, Urga might have fallen into their hands, but the defense force having continually been reinforced ever since there is now little chance for the invading force to push through.

"The only tactics that the attackers could resort to would be to encircle the city, cut off the supply of provisions and starve out the inhabitants.

JAP REPORT DENIED

"With regard to the report that Japanese were with the attacking force, there were certainly no Japanese troops among them. According to information received from prisoners during the recent fighting, there were upwards of 100 Chinese among the attacking forces and there may have been ten or twenty Japanese also. If so, they were rogues who evaded the vigilance of the Japanese authorities."

"There are fifteen Japanese residents left at Urga who are now ready to withdraw from the place. Among other foreigners Andersen, Meyer and other American firms rendered valuable services in carrying refugees and supplies between Peking and Urga."

Peking, November 28.—Tsai Chen-hsun reports that considerable quantities of grain have been sent to Kalgan which are urgently needed for the troops at Urga.

Nantao Christian Institute Closing Drive For Funds; Additions Made To Staff

Institution Has Raised $9,000 Of $11,000 Required; Rev A. R. Kepler Is To Be New Head And Plans Extension Of Work

The Nantao Christian Institute is making history this year for the Christian forces of the city. The annual financial and membership campaign will end today. The largest amount raised in former years for the work of the Institute was about $3,000 but the goal set this year is $11,000.

Just before this year's campaign started, when a goal of $6,000 was being considered, Mr. S. L. Tien, one of the leading lumber merchants of the Nantao District, "suggested the workers to raise a really worthy amount, and so $11,000, was fixed on. It seemed then a wild dream at first, but with Mr. Tien's promises of help from other leading business men, the secretaries and workers began the campaign with determination.

ALREADY HAVE $9,000

This week has ended with the leaders all confident that by Tuesday they will go "over the top." The amount paid in to date in actual cash is about $9,000, and the last two days of the campaign are yet to be counted, and such days are always above average. Enthusiasm reigns among the workers. Mr. Tien has helped to give a boost to the social work of the entire community. It is another case of a man with big ideas.

Six teams are working in the campaign. One of these is composed entirely of women, under the leadership of Miss Wu Zak-zen and Miss Beulah Chang, and to date this team stands third in the list in amount collected. The team captained by Mr. Wang Soo-zi is holding the lead, and that captained by Mr. Vung Lan-ding is not far behind. Other teams are lead by Mr. Zee Vee-wai, Mr. T. Y. Chang and Mr. Zee Vung-ling.

IS FIVE YEARS OLD

The Institute was organised some five years ago under the leadership of Rev. Sidney McKee, of the Presbyterian Mission, South Gate, who is still its secretary. The Institute represents a worthy attempt to broaden and enrich the working program of a Chinese Church. The South Gate Presbyterian Church has pioneered Christian work in the Nantao District, and during these five years the Institute, led by the church leaders, has put scores of Christians to work along lines of service to the community, developing their latent abilities and winning many others to church membership. At the same time, it has given hundreds outside the Church a fairer conception of what Christianity can do for a community. It's program includes minor athletics, social games and entertainments, playground activities, night schools and day schools, and religious work, which permeates the whole program.

ADDITIONS TO STAFF

During the last summer Miss M. L. Ing returned from Oberlin College and joined the staff of the Institute with special responsibility for work for women. In September Mr. D. T. Wang, one of the ablest teachers and social workers in the Presbyterian Churches, joined the staff as Chinese general secretary. The fresh vision and larger plans of these young people have made possible the accepting of the challenge for a larger financial effort at this time.

Just before this campaign was announced, it was decided also that Rev. A. R. Kepler, of Siangtan, Hunan, will be transferred in a few months to lead the Institute, while Mr. McKee will be given a much-coveted freedom to be related more closely to the young people in the other two Presbyterian Churches of the city. Mr. Kepler, who had finished both college and seminary at 21, came to China with the conviction that social service in the name of the Church would spread Christianity more rapidly, on a firm foundation, than would be possible with the more limited program of evangelistic work. After some years in Ningpo, he was transferred to Hunan, to a city of about 100,000 people. Strange to say, this city has no colleges or high schools, and all students desiring higher education are sent to Changsha. The city however is a most progressive one, with strong commercial activities and with leaders who are influencing the entire province.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Mr. Kepler started when he went to Hunan to make the acquaintance of these leaders, with a view to securing their co-operation on a social program, and the appeal was readily responded to. Unfortunately when the fighting was going on in Hankow in 1911, Mr. Kepler, while watching a battle from a house top, was wounded in the jaw by a stray bullet, and it seemed that his work in China was done; but modern surgery saved his life, and in due time he returned to develop the embryonic Christian work in Siangtan.

During the 1913 revolution, when the North and the South were fighting in Hunan, grave local complications arose in the city, and as has not infrequently been the case, the Chinese leaders found a foreigner of considerable help in the parleying. The victors were threatening to turn the city over to loot and to slaughter all the prisoners. Mr. Kepler was instrumental in preventing both of these atrocities, and as a result, he was given the most unusual honor of being presented with the Wan Ming San, that is, the official silk umbrella, which is given only when great honor is paid to an official.

INSTITUTIONAL WORK

The work which he has led in developing in Siangtan is called "The Community Guild." Because there is little experience in China in such work (institutional church work), Mr. Kepler and his assistants were content to rent Chinese houses until they should know what was needed. The Chinese buildings still being used comprise gymnasium, lobby and offices, class rooms for about 400 students, public reading room, dispensary, boys' and women's divisions, and auditorium which seats 900 persons. The appeal is made to the home, and provision is made for a family membership. The tuition charged students is graded so as to allow for poor and rich. The dispensary last year treated 13,000 persons.

All the activities are centered in the church organisation, and all the work is kept before the membership by means of a weekly paper. Such work requires a considerable staff, both foreign and Chinese, with loyal co-operation on the part of all, with all sharing the aim of giving Christian ideals the dominant place in every phase of community life.

The Nantao Institute is congratulating itself not only on the prospects of the campaign but on the prospect of having such another strong leader in the near future—probably next April. One of the most experienced in institutional church workers in China, Mr. Kepler believes that Shanghai is doing more work of this kind, in its numerous churches, than any other city in China. The movement toward broader and richer programs of church activities will be greatly strengthened by his coming, and the committee now at work here will welcome him most heartily.

JAPAN'S ENVOY PLANS REUNION WITH GERMANS

Hioki Refutes Statement That Nation Would Bar Ex-Foe From League

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, November 29.—Mr. E. Hioki, who is on the point of departure to fill the post of Ambassador in Berlin, stated according to the Nichi Nichi, that he would make the utmost effort to re-establish the former friendship between the German and Japanese peoples.

While, he said, Japan fought with her allies, she was deeply indebted to Germany in scientific matters.

The sooner the war sores were healed the better for Japan. Nevertheless, she would work in full conjunction with the Powers in respect of all Entente questions.

He believed that Viscount Hayashi was erroneously reported when he was made to say that Japan desired the exclusion of Germany from the League of Nations.

Economic Blockade Plan Is Being Outlined By Commission Of League

(Reuter's Service)

Bordeaux, November 27 (by wireless to Koukaza).—The following is the text of an official French report of today's proceedings of the Assembly of the League of Nations:

"The Commissions today continued their labors. The Armaments Commission, under the Chairmanship of M. Branting (Sweden), held an important sitting.

"Lord Robert Cecil presented his observations on the economic blockade, provided for under Article 16 of the Covenant. The Council of the League had recommended the formation of an international blockade commission. Lord Robert Cecil proposed that a special service or an official of the Secretariat of the League of Nations should be entrusted with the duty of following events in order to inform the Council of any infraction of the Covenant that might occur, so that the Council could, if the necessity arose, put the economic blockade into immediate execution.

WANT DEFINITE LINES

"Mr. Millen (Australia) asked for definite instructions for each State in the event of an economic blockade, as different States were differently situated in this regard.

"M. Lange (Norway) supported Mr. Millen, instancing the difficulties in the case of a maritime country like Norway.

"M. Motta (Switzerland) emphasised the peculiar situation of Switzerland, a country which was militarily and economically neutral, and contained many foreign inhabitants.

"M. Fock (Holland) suggested that the Council should only have the power to invite members of the League to take economic measures, and that each country ought to decide its own action.

"The Council of the League will meet on Monday, and the Assembly on Tuesday."

VILNA FORCE ASSIGNED

Paris, Nov. 28.—The International Force sent by the League of Nations to supervise the Vilna plebiscite will be composed as follows:

Belgian detachment—1 company of infantry and 1 machine-gun section. British detachment—2 companies of infantry and 1 machine-gun section; Spanish detachment—2 companies of infantry and 1 machine-gun section; French detachment—2 companies of infantry and 1 machine gun section.

The force will be commanded by Colonel Chardigny (France).

The Scandinavian countries have not yet replied to the League's invitation to send a detachment to the force.

New York, Nov. 26.—The Geneva correspondent of the Associated Press telegraphs that Lord Robert Cecil, the South African delegate to the League of Nations Assembly, expressed the view that the United States would be the most suitable nation to receive a mandate over Armenia as she would have the greatest influence over Mustapha Kemal.

He added that the twenty millions which it would cost to supply the necessary military assistance to establish the independence of Armenia could be regarded as a loan.

London, November 27.—The rupture between the Amsterdam Internationale and the Moscow "Third" Internationale was confirmed yesterday by the Extraordinary International Trade Union Congress, in session here.

A resolution submitted by M. # CHILE IS SEEKING PEACE WITH PERU

Bolivia Question May Also Be Settled By Vote Says Statesman

(Reuter's Service)

Santiago, Chile, September 25 (by mail).—Chile desires peace and tranquility on the South American continent, and has earnestly tried to obtain a friendly solution of her question with Peru and Bolivia, Senator Eliodord Yanez, one of the nation's leading statesmen, told a press correspondent today.

The dispute between Chile and Peru over Tacna and Areca, and Bolivia's aspirations for an outlet to the sea have been widely debated by the public and in the press here since the military revolt at La Paz, Bolivia, in July, when a political party, said to be hostile to Chile, assumed power.

Speaking of the controversy with Peru, Senator Yanez said:

PERU IS BLAMED

"Chile on several occasions has tried to reach an agreement for holding the plebiscite, and with the exception of the unratified agreement of 1912, Peru always has resisted an understanding, proposing clauses or expressing exigencies unacceptable, or depressive, to Chile."

Referring to the Bolivian question, Senator Yanez said:

"The relations between Chile and Bolivia are regulated by the treaty of 1904, under which the latter ceded definitely to Chile the Province of Antofagasta, los by Bolivia in the Pacific war. Until recently cordial relations had been maintained between the two countries. In July, a military revolution broke out in La Paz; President Guiterrez Guerra was deposed and banished, and a Junto de Gobernio was organised. This new order raised as a slogan the non-recognition of the treaty of 1904 and the reclamation of the territories which by this pact were recognised as Chile's. They were annexed forty years ago, and a great Chilean population is in them.

PLEBISCITE RESISTED

"Chile has manifested more than once her purpose of adopting an economic policy in agreement with Bolivia to meet that country's desire for a port. Peru's resistance to the plebiscite and her support of Bolivian aspirations have hindered or retarded this agreement, and the Bolivian revolt has made it impossible for the moment."

The provinces of Tacna and Areca are governed by Chile as territories under the direction of the Foreign Department, with no representation in Parliament.

CONSULATE URGES REGISTRATION OF AMERICANS HERE

Estimated But Half Of Those Living In Shanghai Have Been Listed

According to estimates of the American Consulate not more than 50 percent of the American residents of Shanghai are registered with the Consulate, and measures are being taken by the consular staff, particularly for the benefit of the many who have arrived from the United States in recent months, to add to the list of registered.

Registration at the Consulate, while not compulsory, carries with it benefits that may assume the first importance, for it provides the readiest and speediest means of identification for a national, such as is generally required in all transactions of an official nature. It has happened frequently in connection with applications for emergency passports that Americans who had not registered were put to costly delays and expense due to their neglect.

Applicants for initial registration are advised to take with them to the Consulate all available documentary evidence of American citizenship, including any passport they may have and they should be accompanied by an identifying witness.

Those who have once registered and have received notice of approval of their registrations need no further evidence when applying for re-registration.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 27.—In one of the worse storms for years in the North Pacific Ocean the steamer Santa Rita, bound from Tacoma, Washington, for the west coast of South America with lumber, was forced to cut loose her tow, the barge W. J. Pirrie.

The Santa Rita reported to night that the Pirrie had drifted ashore at a point 96 miles south of Cape Flattery and that there was little hope for saving the Captain's wife and daughter and crew of 13 aboard the Pirrie.

The Santa Rita and the U. S Coast Guard cutter, Snohomish are standing by, although it is feared the Pirrie has broken up.

Astoria, Ore., Nov. 28.—Drifting lumber sighted off Cape Johnson indicated that the missing barge, W. J. Pirrie, cut loose from the steamer Santa Rita which had her in tow yesterday, has broken up on the rocks in the raging storm. The Pirrie had 24 persons aboard, according to latest reports.

U.S. NAVY FOOTBALLERS SCORE UNEXPECTED WIN OVER ARMY, 7 TO 0

SHANGHAI RUGGERS PREPARE FOR STUBBORN CONTEST WITH FRENCH SAILORS THIS WEEK

Good Practice Game Played—Leach, Spencer And Wheen Among Those Who Show Well—'Whites' Defeat 'Colors' —Baptist Collegians Win And Lose In Contests

(U. S. Naval Radio)

New York, November 27.—Before a record-breaking throng assembled at the Polo Grounds (this city) today, the football team representing the U. S. Naval Academy defeated their old rivals, the military cadets from West Point by the close score of 7-0.

The Navy made one touch down and kicked goal, while the Army was unable to penetrate the Middy line with any degree of success during any one of the four exciting periods of fifteen minutes each.

This win for the Navy brings the long-fought series between the institutions to a tie, each having won eleven times. The Navy was also victorious last year, by a 6-0 score.

Polo Grounds, Nov. 27 (later).—The Navy won after a bitter battle, only scoring in the last quarter. The first quarter ended with the ball in the Navy's possession, on its own 34-yard line. Score 0—0.

During the first half excellent defense play prevented either team from gaining much ground. The Army tried seven forward passes, only three of which proved successful and on them they only gained a total of seventeen yards. Of seven forward passes tried by the Navy only two were successful, for a total gain of 30 yards.

The Navy, by a smashing attack, carried ball into army territory for the first time at the end of the third quarter, but the score stood at 0—0 when the whistle blew; Navy's ball on Army 20-yard line.

Shortly after the Fourth quarter began Kohler (Navy) slipped inside Storck to the Army's 13-yard line before Captain Wilhide could cut him down. Noyes replaced Clark and ripped through to the Soldiers' 7-yard line, where Goodman stopped him.

When play was resumed Noyes received ball and passed to Kohler, who sprinted outside Storck for a touchdown, after which King kicked goal.

Almost immediately the Navy rushed down the field to the Army's 13-yard line, where Noyes fumbled, the Army recovering and the Navy losing its chance for a second touchdown. The Army, unable to gain, punted to the Navy's 24-yard line. The Navy was also forced to punt to the Army's 25-yard line, when the final whistle blew.

Rugby football got off to a flying start on Saturday afternoon, after lying dormant during the period of the war. A fine crowd of ruggers, old and new to Shanghai, appeared for a preliminary "limb-loosener" on the grounds of the Shanghai Cricket Club and a good fast game between two picked teams was the result.

The contest was in the nature of a try out for the candidates for a place on the team which is scheduled to meet a fast fifteen from the French cruiser "D'Esaix" next Saturday afternoon. Several newcomers—notably Rev. C. E. Spencer and D. W. Leach, already famous in the local cricket world—made favorable impressions on the selection committee.

The opposing teams, nominated as "Whites" and "Colors," and captained respectively by Captain G. J. Morley-Peel and Mr. J. W. Webber, started off with a fine burst of speed and maintained a stiff pace throughout the contest, which resulted in a win for the "Whites" by three tries to nil (9-0).

The first try was scored by Leach, following a long kick and a pretty rush by Morley-Peel. The second score came as the result of a stout round-the-pack dash on the part of A. F. Wheen, the "White" right-wing three-quarter, who had received a throw-in from touch. The score at the end of the first half was "Whites" six, "Colors" nothing.

A "SCRAPPY" CONTEST

The second half was scrappily contested throughout, but the "Colors" were unable to put over a try, while Wheen, for the opposition, made a beautiful run through a scattered field for the only other tally of the afternoon.

Good form was shown by a number of the players—Wheen, Webster, Hunter, Harder, Morley-Peel, Barraclough and Webber in particular—and it is believed that Shanghai will at least be able to give the French sailor team a stiff argument when they tangle next Saturday afternoon.

It is the hope of the local Rugby Union that a representative gathering of football lovers will be on hand next Saturday on the Cricket Club grounds to see the real opening game of the season.

BAPTISTS AT NANKING

The Middle and First football elevens of Shanghai Baptist College returned home from Nanking yesterday, after having each won and lost a soccer contest in the ancient capital last Thursday and Saturday.

On Thursday the Middlers lost to Nanking University II by a 2-1 score while the First team lost to the University First by three goals to nil. Both games were speedy and well-played.

The Shanghai players took a stiff brace between Thursday and Saturday, with the result that they took two games from Nanking Teachers' College, the Middlers winning their preliminary contest with the second team, 1-0, while the Firsts swamped the Teachers' first-string squad, scoring six goals to the latter's nil.

Mr. R. R. Jones of Shanghai was the referee in each of the four contests and gave entire satisfaction. Large crowds were on hand to witness the two-days' play.

Ohio, State, undefeated winner of the Middle Western Conference championship for 1920, has been chosen to represent the East in the intersectional football championship match to be played at Pasadena, California, on New Year's Day, during "The Tournament of Roses" celebration.

The eastern eleven will probably oppose the University of California, winner of the Pacific Coast Conference championship; although it is possible that the University of Southern California, which also made a good record during the season, may be chosen to represent the Far West.

Last year, also at Pasadena on New Year's Day, Harvard met and defeated the University of Oregon in a hair-raising contest, winning by the narrow margin of one point, the final score being Harvard 7, Oregon 6.

Ohio State is figured a favorite over either "Cal" or "South Cal" for this year's contest.

CUMMING WINS DOUBLE VICTORY ON GOLF LINKS

Wreaks Revenge On Ferrier And Helps Hungjao Defeat Shanghai

BY 'MID-IRON'

Mr. K. M. Cumming, recently eliminated from the Shanghai Golf championship by Mr. J. B. Ferrier (who subsequently won the 1920 title) wreaked royal vengeance on that gentleman last Sunday afternoon, during the playing of a match between Hungjao and Shanghai, on the former's links.

In the singles, arrayed against Mr. Ferrier, the Hungjao crack scored a clean-cut one-point victory over his former conqueror. Later, in the foursomes, Mr. Cumming and Mr. R. E. Wilson defeated Mr. Ferrier and Mr. R. G. MacDonald, also by a one-point margin.

Thanks to these and other victories, Hungjao won the singles by a margin of 2¾ points and only lost the foursomes by 1¼ points, thus taking the match by the narrow net margin of 1½ points.

ILLNESS INTERVENES

Mr. C. W. Bestwick, who was to have played with Mr. C. G. Mackie in the foursomes, was prevented by illness from continuing after the morning. Mr. Mackie played a best-ball match against Messrs. Benson and Fowler, losing 1¼ points in the somewhat uneven contest.

G. M. Neal Wins 1920 Title In Record-Breaking Shoot At "All Comers" Tourney

New Member Of S.R.A. Defeats Field Of Fifteen For First Place—Dr. Ransom Also Makes New Mark And Achieves Second Position

By virtue of some very excellent shooting in the second (and final) stage of the Shanghai "All-Comers" Rifle Championship for 1920, held at the Rifle Range yesterday morning, Mr. G. M. Neal, a new member of the Rifle Association, walked off with the title on the record-breaking score of 240, winning by a point from Dr. S. A. Ransom, who took second on some equally fine marksmanship over the longer ranges, after making an indifferent showing on the first day of riflery.

Dr. Ransom hung up a record of 134 for the second stage, which is extremely likely to stand for a long time. Mr. Ito, whose work on the short ranges was so noteworthy, fell down on his 800-yard and 1,000-yard shots and finished in a tie with Mr. A. C. Davis for fourth place, which he lost in the count-out.

Mr. R. G. H. Cole maintained a steady pace throughout and captured third place. Sixteen marksmen participated in the tournament, ranges being 800 and 1,000 yards, one sighting shot, two practice shots (optional) and fifteen scoring shots at each distance. The weather conditions were good.

After firing at 800 yards Noisshiki and Kawanami were highest scorers with 73 each, followed by Dr. Ransom with 72 and G. M. Neal, 71 respectively. Adding these scores with those of the first stage, Messrs. Ito, Cole, Kawanami and Noisshiki were leading with 170 each, followed by Dr. Ransom and F. T. Smith with 169 each.

At the 1,000 yards Dr. Ransom was top with 71 and Neal 70, Cole and Davis with 66 each and Ito with 65. Adding this score with those of first stage, Mr. Neal won the championship with a record score of 240 (last record 235).

Following are the results of the second and final stage.

ITO IN FINE FORM

*Record

Mr. Ito, by his performances during this shoot, has hung up some enviable records which will probably stand for some time to come. On Saturday, shooting over the 300-500-600-yard ranges, he scored 15 "centrals," 3 "bulls" and 3 "inners."

Fisher was pitted against ninety expert riflemen representing thirteen different countries. His score was 996 out of a possible 1,080. This is the first time in history that this classic has ever been won by a competitor using the standard military rifle of any country. It is also the first time that an American has won this event.

CHINESE-OWNED PONY TRIUMPHS IN FEATURE RACE

Rain-Soaked Course Upsets Off-Day Meet 'Dope'—Favorites In Ruck

(Amplified Staff Wire To The China Press)

Hankow, November 27.—Thih Kung Chi, a Chinese-owned, Chinese-bred China pony, today annexed the International Champion Sweepstake, which featured the first Off-Day of the Autumn Meet at the local race track this afternoon. Mr. Baker's bay Challenger was second and Nero Stable's White Tempest was third.

The winning pony was piloted by Mr. S. L. Kiang. Mr. Dunne rode Challenger and Mr. L. C. Ho had the mount on Tempest.

The course, after Friday's heavy rain, was soggy and undependable, which caused a number of scratches in the Autumn Steeplechase, resulting in a walk-over victory for Mr. Beith's chestnut pony Floreat.

Weeks and Marker's stable had a big day, sending three winners to the post. Shantung, with Mr. Dupree up, won the third race, while Chungking and Sunrise, both ridden by Mr. Borioni, captured the fourth and sixth events respectively.

The summaries follow, lacking the names of several owners who have been racing at the Chinese course:

First Race.—The Big Sweep Cup.—(Cup presented). Value to winner $150. Second $50. Third $25. For all ponies that have run at this meeting and have not won.—One mile.

U.S. PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL TEAMS, NOW IN JAPAN, MAY ELECT TO SHOW IN SHANGHAI

Local Club, While Giving No Guarantees, Offers To Aid Major Leaguers All They Possibly Can If Latter Decide To Give Exhibition Here

By Dudley Burrows

Shanghai is likely to see at least one—and more probably two—exhibition games between American big-league baseball players, sojourning in Japan, if grounds can be secured and a proposition recently made to the tour-managers by Mr. J. S. Potter of this city is found to be acceptable.

While Mr. Potter, who is acting as honorary Secretary of the Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club, was not able to make as attractive an offer to the baseballers at he might have been prepared to do had the season not advanced apace, he has generously volunteered, in a letter despatched last Friday, to do all in his power to make it possible for the games to be played, providing the promoters care to take the risks.

In short, Mr. Potter has made it plain to the Kushibiki Enterprises, which are looking after the Japanese end of the tour, that the baseball season in Shanghai is over; the local teams disbanded, the grandstands dismantled and general interest in the popular warm-weather sport is at comparatively low ebb.

However, should the tour-managers desire—in the face of these conditions—to come to Shanghai and gamble on the day (or days) and the crowd (or crowds), Mr. Potter has volunteered to make the arrangements, insofar as he is able.

This means, he explained yesterday, that the local club will endeavor to secure permission to reerect the stands and prepare the playing field for the exhibitions, and to charge admissions; will donate the necessary advertising and purely local expenses; and will do everything else they can to make things comfortable and generally satisfactory for the visiting players during their stay.

The games, if they take place, will probably be played along about the middle of December. The players are now in Japan having opened there on Thanksgiving Day with a line up somewhat as follows:

American League — Ainsmith (Det.), c; Ellison (Clev.), Ross (N.Y.), Robertson (Chi.),p; Zamlock (Det.), 1st; Huber (Det.), 2nd; Fritch (N.Y.), s.s.; Doyle (N.Y.), 3rd; Conolly (Wash.), l.f; Cunningham (Det.), c.f.

National League—Gomes (Chi) c; Pertica (St. L.), Shore (N..Y.) Killilay (Bos.), p.; Sheehan (Bklyn), 1st; Gay (P'g'h), 2nd; Rader (Phil.), s.s.; Butler (St. L.),3rd; Hood (Bklyn),l.f.; Bohne (Cin.), c.f.

In the case of each team one of the pitchers will probably play right field.

Shanghai fans may, perhaps, be a trifle disappointed at the first glimpse of this personnel of players—but they are likely to be quite evenly matched and able to put up a very good exhibition of America's national pastime as played in the big leagues at home.

True, most of the players are "second-string" men and not any of the high-salaried stars who were first believed to be with the outfit seem to have materialised. Still, the writer has seen many of the players in action in the Pacific Coast and other minor leagues, before they "went up" to the majors, and knows them for splendid players.

Carl Zamlock, for example, was noted, a season or so ago, as a great clean-up hitter for San Francisco, in the Coast League.

Joe Connolly also "graduated" from the Seals, with whom he was a very popular player.

Pertica was an exceptionally

2 MORE BOXERS ENTER TOURNEY FOR 1920 TITLE

Two additional aspirants for local lightweight boxing honors have sent in their names as entries in the championship elimination tournament now being arranged by Mr. G. H. Parkes, physical director of the Shanghai Public Schools, as an added feature of the School's boxing program scheduled to be held in January.

N. B. Mather and J. J. Corbett are the two amateur battlers who have elected to try conclusions with E. Siemssen—the first entrant—and all others who may later elect to enter the controversy.

Incidentally, Mr. Parkes desires to call attention to the fact that, under the rules of the Amateur Boxing Association, the lightweight limit is 140 pounds and not 133 pounds, as noted in a previous article.

This may open the gateway to several other ambitious boxers who would have been unable to get down to the lighter figure, as the competition, as far as possible, will be held under A.B.A. rules.

PLANS TO REDUCE SETTLEMENT'S 884 BROTHELS STATED

Of Total, 177 May Not Renew Licenses—Drawing To Be Held At Town Hall

Records of the municipal administration that have been prepared in anticipation of a drawing that is to be held at the Town Hall on the afternoon of December 21 show that a total of 884 licensed brothels are in operation within the limits of the International Settlement.

The number is to be reduced by 177, or twenty percent, on April 1, 1921, and the drawing to take place at the Town Hall is to be held to determine the twenty percent that will be refused renewed licenses after the date given. This is the first step in the five-year program to elliminate disorderly houses from the Settlement, authorised at last spring's meeting of the ratepayers as an outcome of an inquiry that was conducted last year by a vice commission.

The manner in which the drawing will be conducted has not yet been announced but the drawing will be public and open to all sufficiently interested to procure tickets of admission from the authorities.

LIST IS POSTED

A complete list of licensed places, together with license numbers and addresses, has been posted at the entrance to the municipal offices on Kiangse Road. According to this list Chekiang Road, which passes the Town Hall, is credited with having the largest number of disorderly houses, 151 in all. Another of the four streets on which the Town Hall stands, Kwangse Road, which crosses Nanking Road to wind its way past the Louza Police station, is second in the list with 119 places and another thoroughfare that passes Louza Station, Kweichow Road, holds third place with 40 licensed places.

Kiangse Road and Soochow Road, known as a center of foreign establishments, are credited with five licensed houses, three of which are on Kiangse Road. Other streets of the Settlement that figure prominently in the list with the number of licenses issued on each are: Yunnan Road, 42; Ningpo Road, 28; Thibet Road, 36; Canton Road, 34; Fokien Road, 20; Foochow Road, 30; Hankow Road, 35; Hupeh Road, 20, and Yalu Road, 15.

At the head of the Association is Alfred L. Aiken, former governor of the Federal Reserve Bank in the city. The Association will co-operate with the work of the Savings Division of the Treasury Department, but its activities will be distinct from any government branch.

FIRST FOREIGN WEDDING HELD AT PINGYANGFU

(China Press Correspondence)

Hungtung, Shn., Nov. 18.—The outstanding events of the autumn so far as on the local missionary community is concerned is the marriage of Miss Carolyn P. Lovejoy of Oakland, California, U. S. A., to Mr. Ford L. Canfield, of Pasadena, Cal. which took place at Pingyangfu, on November 13 the Reverand F. C. H. Dreyer, head of the Shansi Bible Institute, officiating.

As the first foreign wedding to take place at Pingyangfu, it was an historic event, and although no announcement was made, the church was well filled with Chinese Christian friends, who, together with guests from two other mission stations, witnessed the ceremony. After Mr. Dreyer had conducted a short Chinese service explaining the customs and symbols of the English ceremony, the bride entered the church on the arm of the Reverand Albert Lutley, Superintendent of the China Inland Mission in the province of Shansi, attended by Mrs. J. P. Carr and Mrs. Elsie Grosart and the Misses Lydis E. Berthold and Edith G. Dreyer. Dr. J. C. Carr of the Wilson Memorial Hospital, Pingyangfu, acting as groomsman.

After the ceremony the party returned to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carr, the gracious host and hostess of the occasion, where the wedding breakfast, charming in all its appointments, was served. Quantities of chrysanthemum lent themselves beautifully to the decorations in chapel and home, also composing the bouquets carried by the bride and those attending her.

The events of the day were closed with a communion service after which the bride and groom were escorted by the merry party who lighted their way with Chinese lanterns to the home which had been ideally proposed for their honeymoon.

The new buildings of the Hoste Schools erected through the generosity of Mr. E. M. McBrier, of New York City, on a splendid 18-acre site overlooking the Fen River, northeast of the city, are sufficiently advanced to allow of occupation, though another year will be required for their completion. The school is prospering under the principalship of Rev. R. Hogben. Over a hundred scholars are enrolled at present, although many others have not been able to come owing to high cost of food. We are hoping to welcome Rev. K. B Nanman back from furlough in a week or 10 days, to resume his work in the school.

Flour now costs 90 cash per 16oz catty here. Before the rains in September, it was as high as 130 cash per catty. The winter wheat is in excellent condition and gives promise of a splendid crop next summer, providing we get seasonable rains next spring. There is a great scarcity of fodder. Millet straw costs 24 cash per catty and wheat straw 14½ cash. On the other hand cotton is cheap this year. A few years ago cotton cost as much as 580 cash per catty, but this year native cotton only brings 420 cash per catty and that grown from foreign seed brings even less, namely 370 cash, because it is slightly damaged.

AWAIT CHINESE INSTRUCTIONS AS TO R.V.F. STATUS

Captain Of Astrakhan Turns Papers Over To Foreign Bureau; Expect Reply Today

Further developments in the Russian Volunteer Fleet controversy, wherein the old and new agencies have come to argument again with the arrival of the steamer Astrakhan, hinge upon action by the Chinese authorities.

Captain Sowak, of the Astrakhan, yesterday called at the Bureau of Foreign Affairs and presented his documents to the Commissioner of Foreign Affairs. The old agents on Saturday tried to force delivery of these documents to them, as reported in THE CHINA PRESS of Sunday. The Captain informed them that his orders required him to report only to the new agency and declined to do anything further in the matter until yesterday, when he could see the Foreign Commissioner.

It is expected that the Commissioner will have instructions from Peking today.

Eddie Ainsmith has been, for years, a mainstay catcher for the Detriot Tigers, while Sheehan (unless the name is wrong) actually played with Brooklyn in the recently concluded world series.

Cunningham was formerly a winning pitcher for Detroit, in the days when that club was wont to figure in the world's series games at the end of the season.

He followed this on Sunday with 16 centrals, 4 bulls and one inner, for a total of 104, being tied by Mr. F. T. Smith, who also did a fine bit of riflery on Saturday (score 99); which, however, was exceeded by six other marksmen.

FOUR MADE RECORDS

Four men scored 102 each on Saturday. Of these only two—Mr. Ito and Mr. A. M. Collaco (First Reserves) entered the "All-Comers" on Sunday. Mr. Collaco was somewhat off his marks for this competition, scoring only 96.

Of the 18 qualified for the final stage (800 and 1,000 yds.) eight are British, Six Americans, three Japanese and one Portuguese.

Competitors scoring "possibles" during this competition will be awarded one spoon of each "possible." Messrs. Ito, F. T. Smith and G. M. Neal made two possibles each at 500 and 600 yds. R. G. H. Cole, A. C. Davis and H. Noisshiki also made possibles at 500 yds.

Hankow Famine Relief Fair Nets Large Amount

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, November 24.—Large crowds of visitors thronged in the building and compound of the Chinese Young Men's Christian Association of Hankow on November 19-20 when a big Fair in aid of the famine-stricken provinces of North China was being held under the joint auspices of Chinese and foreign Christians of Hankow.

The missions represented in the Famine Relief Fair were the American Church Mission, the Wesleyan Mission, the London Mission and the Chinese Y. M. C. A. Before the occasion of the Fair, these missionary bodies pooled their efforts for the common cause of rendering relief to famine sufferers in northern provinces.

FIRMS ERECT BOOTHS

The most outstanding feature of the Fair was the bazaars which were both inside the building and on the compound. The booths were lined up by the sides of the athletic field, where were found products of the following companies: Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company, the National Tobacco Company, the Hing Hwa Paste Manufacturing Company, the Kwang Sang Hong, the Commercial Press, the Chung Hwa Book Company, the Nestle and Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk Company, Ching Bin Hing Brass Company, the Y. M. C. A. Press, M. Y. San and Company, the Chinese National Optical Company and several restaurants.

The British-American Tobacco Company, too, had a booth, and at the same time made an attractive show to advertise their products. All these booths gave their proceeds either entirely or in part to the famine relief fund.

Inside the Association building, beautifully decorated stalls were built. Chinese curios, donated by Mr. Wong Kwong, general manager of the Yangtsze Engineering Works, were offered for sale by Mrs. Wong Kwong and Miss Wong. Women's handwork and needlework, embroideries, stationeries and candies were found in these beautiful stalls. Many girl students of the American Church Mission schools assisted in the work of selling these products and flowers.

On Friday afternoon at 2 p.m., Dr. Yen Teh-ching, President of the Wuhan Y.M.C.A. and Managing Director of the Canton-Hankow Railway, in declaring the Fair open, made a brief address in the lobby. Mr. T. K. Hu, Executive Secretary of the Hankow Y.M.C.A., on behalf of the Hankow Christian Famine Relief Committee, expressed thanks to the visitors as well to all those who had assisted in the preparation and carrying out of the Fair. After this simple opening ceremony, the visitors dispersed to different parts of the Fair.

ATHLETIC EXHIBITIONS

Other interesting items of the program were the athletic performances of the Chiu Woo Athletic Association of Hankow, two concerts given by students of St. Lois School, and the Wu Bun Kindergarten, sleight of hand by Han Bin Chien, and a Chinese play of the new drama type entitled "The Cause of a Nation's Destruction" which was staged in the evening in two parts. The Hankow Russian Orchestra and the Griffith John College Band gave band selections forming another feature of the day.

Besides Chinese Christians of Hankow, many of the foreign missionaries and others kindly assisted in preparing for the Fair.

The various committees were: Executive, S. T. Kong, Chairman, Mr. A. M. Guttery, Mr. T. K. Hu; Business, Mr. A. M. Guttery, Chairman, Mr. C. C. Kwan; Decoration, Mr. K. Y. Woo, Chairman, Mrs. G. R. Henkel, Mrs. Lott H. T. Wei, and Mrs. C. Y. Wong; Drama, Mr. Li Shao-tsai and members of the Dramatic Club; Games, Mr. H. D. Hao, Chairman, Mr. Hsi-san C. Liu, Miss Frances Tseng, Mr. Edmund Liang, Mr. Tong Hsin-ching, Mrs. S. T. Kong, Mr. Hanson Lee, Mr. Yui Lou-sen, A. M. Quinones, Mr. Han Bin-chien and Mr. S. T. Jean; Music, Miss Venetia Cox, Chairman; Program, Mr. P. W. Mills, Chairman, Mr. S. H. Chuck; and Publicity, Peter S. Jowe, Chairman.

HANKOW HEARS DETAILS OF FAMINE SITUATION

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, November 27.—The appalling famine disaster in North China was presented in first-hand shape to the relief workers of Hankow by Rev. George F. Simmons of Kaifengfu, Honan, at a meeting called at the Victoria Hall by the International Famine Relief Committee of Hankow.

The meeting was attended by a small but representative gathering of the residents of Hankow of the various nationalities. In spite of the fact that the meeting was called by the International Famine Relief Committee, there were present among the foreigners many leading Chinese representing the Hankow Hua Peh Relief Committee and the Hankow Christian Famine Relief Committee.

TELLS OF NEEDS

On the motion of Mr. Geary Gardner, Manager of the Hongkong Shanghai Banking Corporation, Mr. Cecil C. A. Kirke, acting British Consul-General at Hankow, took the chair and explained the object of the meeting, which was to hear the report of Rev. S. H. Littell, of the American Church Mission, who recently went to Peking representing the Hankow International Committee at the Peking Famine Relief Conference, and to receive first-hand information from Rev. George F. Simmons who had specially come to Hankow from Kaifengfu, Honan, to tell the needs and conditions of that province, and how the relief work was being carried on there through funds from Hankow and other places.

NEED GOVERNMENT AID

In introducing these gentlemen, Mr. Gardner remarked that the present famine situation in the northern part of China was unprecedented and that never in his life before had he experienced a similiar disaster in the world. In view of the extent of relief work that is being needed, Mr. Garner added, all that foreigners in China could possibly do in helping the relief cause is like one grain of sand taken from the mountain of misery. The Conference which met at Peking felt that in addition to subscribing and collecting money it was necessary for foreigners to organise and bring all the influence they possessed to bear on the Chinese government in order that it might be stimulated to take proper action and meet the situation adequately. The meeting was, therefore, in the interests of propaganda as well as money raising.

RELIEF CONFERENCE

Rev. S. H. Littell then gave an interesting report of the Peking relief Conference at which he was the delegate of the Hankow International Committee. Mr. Littell said that the Peking Conference felt the need of taking steps not only to ventilate the famine conditions but also to create confidence on the part of donors that the money subscribed should be faithfully and efficiently administered to the famine-stricken population of the North. They had taken steps which would secure this and also drawn up plans of work and formulated a policy of which all would approve.

OBTAIN CARS

Mr. Littell reported that the Peking Conference had secured the admission of two members of the Conference to the Government Famine Relief Bureau; they had secured cars for transporting foodstuffs; they had got assurances that the funds being raised by the government through special levies on most of the government revenues, such as posts, railways, etc, would be really devoted to the purpose for which they were to be raised.

Even in the famine districts, said Mr. Littell, there were traces of robbery causing trouble to the people. The Peking Conference had called for the suppression of robbers in order to relieve the people who are already sorely taxed by the disaster. Besides they had taken steps to deal with the plague which would probably follow from the famine, and planned the carrying out of works which would go a long way to prevent future famines.

AID FOR HONAN

They had also arranged that the funds subscribed in Hankow should be sent to the Honan Provincial Famine Relief Committee. Besides the Hankow International Committee was asked by the Peking Conference to collect subscriptions throughout the Central Yangtsze Valley from Wuhu in Anhwei up to Ichang in Hupeh.

Mr. Littell ended his brief report by appealing for a steady flow of money, as to give only once without having anything to follow would but prolong the agony of the poor people who must be sustained till next harvest in spring if their lives were to be saved.

FIELD FOR RELIEF

Lastly, Rev. Simmons was asked to sketch the field of need in Honan province. Assisted by a postal map of Honan, Mr. Simmons explained that among the 70 counties affected, the Kaifeng Committee were working in 26 of the neediest. The number on the very verge of death by starvation, said Mr. Simmons, outdistanced all imagination, and they had in hand a matter of two million people while no less than nine millions were in distress.

Seed grain had already been given and first aid rendered to the amount of $630,000. Good grains had fallen, and there was a fair of prospect of wheat in spring, but till then the people must be supported.

Mr. Simmons then went on to explain the methods of work adopted and gave assurance that all was done under the strictest regulations. It cost an average of a dollar per head per month, and with two millions to support that meant the sum of ten million dollars till the harvest would be gathered five months hence.

Iron Nails Given a Tip As By Germans In Russia

Halle, Germany, Oct. 14 (Associated Press).—"When we left Moscow several months ago, Daumig and Stoecker (members of the German Economic Mission to Russia) advised me to fill my pockets with iron nails one of which, they said, would readily be accepted throughout Soviet Russia in payment for courtesy or service."

This information was conveyed by Herr Crispien to the delegates of the Independent Socialist convention today during the course of a heated debate over the issue of accepting or rejecting Moscow's conditions.

Vorwarts, the Socialist organ, says that Crispien's unique revelation provides a most penetrating commentary on present economic conditions in Russia and recalls the procedure of missionaries and explorers who won over the African natives through gifts of beads and mirrors.

Fourteen Millions Spent By Red Cross In Russia

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, October 30 (by mail).—Fourteen million dollars, covering the cost of distribution of articles ranging from auto-ambulances to safety pins, has been expended by the American Red Cross in its relief in Russia, according to figures taken from the forthcoming annual report of the organisation.

Service was extended to millions of men, women and children and ranged from hospital care for the sick to food and clothing for the starving and ill clad.

The work was carried on through commissions sent to Siberia, Western Russia, Southern Russia, and the Baltic States, a total of 2,667 persons including 503 Americans were employed.

In Siberia alone Red Cross trains distributed 8,000 tons of supplies and 18 hospitals with a total of 6,596 beds were operated.

One of the most difficult tasks of the organisation, according to the report, was in helping the people of Esthonia where there was no ambulance service and very little in the way of hospitals when the Americans arrived.

The army was in retreat and disorganised and the combined force of soldiers and civilians to the number of 20,000 was described as a hungry, suffering, panic-stricken mob.

In December typhus broke out and for months the Red Cross workers fought the disease amid great difficulties.

At one time the dead were piled in the corners of the rooms with the sick and no effort at decent burial was made.

In a hospital at Reval consisting of a single barrack with 460 beds in one room, there were 600 deaths in one week.

Much of the relief work in Western Russia consisted in aid to more than 250,000 Allied soldiers held in prison camps.

Local Koreans Urged To Aid Independence Program With Funds

Subscriptions Called For To Support Provisional Government

Subscriptions toward the support of the so-called Korean Provisional Government were urged in a speech delivered before some 200 Koreans who met yesterday at the Korean Club.

The talk was given by Mr. An Ching Ho, Minister of Labor of the Provisional Government. He reported on the progress made in Korea toward independence during the last year and declared that further advancement in the matter is being held up by lack of funds. He urged Koreans here to endeavor earnestly to fit themselves for employment and to do everything possible to secure remunerative work which would enable them to help the independence cause. He also advocated a study of the principles of military science.

Rome, Nov. 28.—The Chamber of Deputies by 215 votes to 15 adopted the bill for the ratification of the Treaty of Rapallo with Jugo-Slavia.

Non-Resident Vote In Upper Silesia Presents Problem

Fear Of Bloodshed Leads To Decision They Must Ballot In Allied Zone

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 28.—By virtue of a somewhat broad interpretation of Article 88 of the Annex to the Treaty of Versailles, which defines electoral qualifications, 30,000 persons who are neither domiciled nor in residence in Upper Silesia, but who were born there, will have the right to vote in the plebiscite.

It is justly feared that this influx of outside voters into the country on election day may be the cause of disturbances if not of bloodshed, since the French and Italian police forces are comparatively inadequate.

Two means of solving the difficulty were suggested: the first consists in not permitting the outside electors to vote on the same day as the population of Upper Silesia; the other would be to have them vote outside Upper Silesia in the zone occupied by the Allied troops, at Cologne, for example.

It is this latter solution which has finally been agreed upon.

(German Wireless)

Berlin, November 27.—The Archbishop of Breslau, after negotiations with his Holiness the Pope, has forbidden Roman Catholic clergy of any nationality from taking part in political meetings or agitations in Upper Silesia.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

killed instantly, and an apprentice, who was hit by a piece of shrapnel, was seriously injured.

LONDON, HONORS VICTIMS

London, November 26.—Londoners paid homage today to the nine officers who were murdered in Dublin on Sunday. Thousands assembled to watch the funeral procession pass through the streets from the railway-station to Westminister Abbey and the Westminster Roman Catholic Cathedral, where services were held in memory of the dead."

The nine coffins were placed on gun-carriages, each covered with a Union Jack and smothered in wreaths. They were escorted by military, police, Royal Irish Constabulary and "Black and Tans," through dense masses of silent, reverent people, many of whom were moved to tears as the impressive cortege wended its slow way to the strains of funeral marches.

OFFICIALS PRESENT

Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. Winston Churchill, Sir Hamar Greenwood and many members of Parliament were present at the service in the Abbey, where His Majesty was represented by Gen. Lord Horne, while Cardinal Bourne officiated at the Cathedral where Gen. Lord Cavan represented His Majesty.

After the services the bodies were handed over to the relatives for burial.

INSPECTOR SLAIN

London, November 26.—The latest shooting affair in Ireland is reported from Cork, where Police Inspector Madden was shot, and died not long afterwards.

London, November 25.—Moran, a Sinn Fein leader in Galway, was arrested yesterday and was later shot dead as he was attempting to escape.

The body of a tailor has been found at Kildorrery in County Cork. It was riddled with bullets.

A former soldier was shot dead by an armed band at Tinnymuck in County Westmeath.

While the police were searching a house at Newry, one of its occupants attempted to escape and was seriously wounded.

An Inspector of the Royal Irish Constabulary was shot through the cheeks in a street in Cork this evening.

WAREHOUSES BURNED

Liverpool, Nov. 28.—Fifteen warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle, a suburb of Liverpool, principally cotton warehouses, were set on fire last night. Two were burned to the ground.

Cans of gasoline and a quantity of parafin were found about the premises which, police believe, is strong evidence that the Sinn Feiners have had a hand.

There was some shooting, the constables being fired upon, but none was injured.

One civilian was killed.

Five arrests were made.

CARDINAL GIVES VIEWS

(By Wireless)

New York, Nov. 28.—Cardinal Logue, Primate of all Ireland, in a letter read today in all churches says he knows that ardent sighs for peace continually ascend from the great body of the people, according to a Dublin dispatch.

The Cardinal condemns the murders of last Sunday, which he says no object could excuse nor justify and declares that the perpetrators were not patriots but enemies of the country, robbing her of just sympathy and impressing a stain upon her fair name.

The Primate equally deplores the massacres by forces of the Crown, who were bound to protect, not to destroy. The Cardinal exhorts the people to prayer and avoidance of all associations leading to crime and disaster.

PRESS IS PLEASED

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 26.—The papers express satisfaction at, and see a happy omen in, the extreme cordiality which prevailed at the first meeting of the British and French Premiers on the latter's arrival in London.

The Temps, summing up French opinion, states that France was in favor of the immediate declaration of a definite policy towards ex-King Constantine, whereas Great Britain preferred an attitude of expectancy. Continuing, the Temps says:

"The question how to preserve peace in the Near East is of paramount importance. M. Venizelos—now a refugee in France—is pleading for his ungrateful country, and discountenancing any reshaping of the Sevres Treaty.

"Protests are already heard against any idea of again placing Christian populations under Turkish control. We believe, however, that the general interest must come first, and that interest demands that any fighting in the Near East must cease, and that the permanent causes of conflict in Thrace must be eradicated.

TOO GREAT A TASK

"That task had been entrusted to Greece, who was relied upon to watch Smyrna and Thrace, and to pacify Asia Minor. That task proved somewhat too much for Greece. Now the fall of M. Venizelos has disorganised her army and upset her external and internal political structure.

"So the question is asked: 'Is Greece now strong enough to check the Turkish Nationalists and keep the Bulgarians from the Aegean Sea?'

"French opinion believes that the only way to pacify the Orient and save Greece herself is now to revise the Sevres Treaty as regards Smyrna and Thrace. Any delay will not avail.

"By leaving the Sevres Treaty as it is, any chance of agreement with the Turkish Nationalists is withdrawn from the Constantinople Government. This means perpetuating the war in Turkey, and playing the Bolshevists' game in the Near East, which would do our British friends no good."

Germans Will Bar "Wild Strikers" In Future, Is Warning

(German Wireless)

Shanghai, Nov. 28.—The following German propaganda wireless message has been picked up locally. It is issued with all due reserve:

Berlin, Nov. 27.—In reply to the German National Party's interpellation regarding the electrical workers' strike, the Minister of the Interior, Herr Koch, stated that wild strikes must be fatal to industry and must be prevented by all means.

The law giving the Government extraordinary powers could not, therefore, be suspended as the Government must be in a position to oppose energetically all attempts by political instigators to terrorise the populations. The minister declared that in future all strikers hindering work in a technical emergency would not be re-employed.

While the middle class parties applaud the strong position taken by Government in this matter, the extreme radical papers point out Herr Koch's speech as a declaration of war against the proletariat.

KINGMAN & BROS.
How to Preserve the Teeth
In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth, some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.
Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.
The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers consists in:—
(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly
(2) Filling with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

French Market Feels Effect Of Depression

(Wireless Service)

Paris, November 25.—The French market, like the American, British and Japanese markets, is at present going through a slow process of deflation, which, although painful to some speculators, is proceeding smoothly enough, and is unlikely to lead to many catastrophes. The banks have the situation well in hand, and the jolts are but few.

The Governor of the Bank of France, in an interview, emphatically denied a rumor to the effect that the banks were restricting credit indiscriminately, and stated that the Bank of France had never refused, nor even restricted, credits granted to reputable firms for bona fide trans-

Why Japanese Lack Public Spirit

The Reflections Of A Nobleman On Traveling Manners

BY COUNT FUTARA

(Japan Advertiser)

Count Yoshinori Futara is the younger brother of the Marquis Date Munenobu, who has married into the house of Prince Kita-Shirakawa. He spent some time as an official in the Home Office, afterwards proceeding to Europe and traveling extensively in England, France, Russia, and other parts of the continent. During his stay in England he made tours through the English countryside, observing conditions and chatting with all sorts of people, record of which forms a part of his very interesting volume "Kaizo Monogatari," or "Tales of Reconstruction," from which the following is extracted. The Count is also the author of a French drama entitled "Le Jeune Voyageur du Pays du Soleil Levant, and "Hikyoikusha no Kyoiku Ron or "An essay on education by a non-educationist." Readers of the Memoirs of Lord Redesdale may remember that it was the Lord Date, the last Daimyo of Uwajima in Shikoku, the father of Count Futara, who co-operated with Mr. Freeman Mitford, as he was then, in drawing up the first treaties between Japan and England. Count Futara now holds office in the Imperial Household.

We often hear that Japanese are deficient in public spirit compared with Europeans and Americans, and I am inclined to think it is an incontestable fact. We certainly ought to try and find out why they are thus lacking, and, for my part I consider that the following points have much to do with it. If it is so we should take steps to get rid of the offending cause as soon as we can, and not content ourselves with repeating: "Public spirit must be cultivated," and such like platitudes, whenever we happen to think of it. In the first place we have a legacy of customs from the feudal age which militate against the conception of public spirit. As is well known all different clans looked askance at each other, and everyone harbored suspicion of anyone who did not belong to his clan. "Ah, that's a Hizen man," or "that's a Chikuzen man," they would say, and immediately close up like an oyster; and of course no one would reveal the secrets of fencing of jujitsu to anyone who belonged to another clan.

TRAVELING MANNERS

Naturally in these days politeness and courtesy were considered of the highest importance among the samurai of the various clans, there was also a great tendency to indulge in a swagger and bluster. The result of this mutual rivalry is often apparent in a predatory spirit that sometimes shows itself in the young; for instance pulling the flowers in the parks, and upsetting gravestones by the village scapegraces, things that are probably done out of recklessness and dare-devil feeling, and not with any particular malice. We ought to strive very perseveringly against these narrow-minded views that have been fostered among us in the days gone by. It gives us an indescribably pleasant impression when we see how people in England assist each other and give way to each other in the trains, for instance. If anyone gets in with any luggage, someone is sure to get up and help them to stow it in the rack. And always treat old people and women and children kindly; and when anyone gets in, the others will move up to make a place for them. But in Japan there is nothing admirable in the sight of a lot of people struggling for seats like rival chiefs over their spoil.

STILL IN THE KAGO

I don't think this is because Japanese are essentially devoid of public spirit, but we must remember that they are the descendants of those who but so few years ago were riding along the Tokaido in kago, and so have not yet become quite accustomed to these series of connected cars called trains, in spite of having ridden in them fairly often. I believe a great many of them are still in spirit riding in kago. These kago were carried by a couple of tall brawny coolies called Kumosuke, and since in former times it was the business of these coolies to handle baggage, people are still inclined to affect an attitude of unconcern and hold aloof from anything of that kind as beneath their dignity.

Suppose you happen to tread on the foot of a workman in a tram, what does he say? "Oi! Ki wo tsuk'yagare! Edok'ko no tsukkake zori ga miene no ka? Beramme!"—"What the devil d'you mean by treading on my toes? Can't you look where you're going? You ——" or something similar. It is quite in the manner of the Edokko to spit out some such sharp retort before you have even time to apologise, though there is no more ill-feeling behind it than there are guts in a paper carp in May, as the saying goes. But in England they would say, "I am sorry," or "I beg your pardon," while the person trodden on would reply, "All right," or even in some cases, regarding himself as in the wrong, would himself apologise with the remark, "Sorry." As it is now more than 50 years since the opening of the country, we should really like to see people in Japan behave in public places in a public spirited manner.

STRAP-HANGER'S PURGATORY

Then I should like to say a word about the lack of accommodation afforded by the communication system of Tokio. The narrowness of the roads may be one reason for this perhaps, but anyhow strap-hanging has become a fundamental principle of the system, and if anyone has to go on during the crowded periods of the day it is quite essential that he should be skilled in the art of springing nimbly on to the conductor's platform. The thing that struck me most when I came back again to Tokio from Europe, was the struggle for seats in the trams, and the dexterity of the conductors in punching and handing round transfer tickets. But it is no laughing matter when we consider what a bad influence this must have on the mentality of the people. This is a subject I should like to treat more fully elsewhere, but since we must regard this question of public spirit from the standpoint of accommodation as well as from that of historic custom, it is only putting new wine into old bottles, or iron clamps into tofu, as the Japanese saying goes, to cry out for the inculcation of public spirit while we do nothing to improve these evil communications that corrupt good manners. Let the authorities take a glance at the amiable expression of the faces of the Tokio citizens at eight o'clock in the morning or five o'clock in the evening as with frenzy in their eye they fight for a place in the trams, and they can hardly deny that it is a serious blot on the city's reputation. In a city like Tokio, embracing perhaps the largest level area of all the great capitals, there certainly ought to be both surface and underground railways, or if the soil is unsuitable to underground lines then high speed electric trains in cuttings, if the communications between various points are to be maintained smoothly, and the lack of such conveniences must very greatly impair the efficiency of the citizens. Another desideratum is proper connection between the electric lines outside Tokio and the city lines, so as to link up the capital with the neighboring towns.

Five Dentifrice Features in One

(Newest ideas of all dentifrices combined in Calox

WHITENS TEETH
Forms active peroxide of hydrogen in the mouth
PREVENTS ACID MOUTH
Creates genuine lime-water in the mouth
DESTROYS DECAY-GERMS
Releases pure, refreshing OXYGEN gas
REMOVES TARTAR FILM
Peroxide and lime-water combine to dissolve and wash away tartar
TASTES GOOD
No strong druggy flavor

SOME of us brush our teeth to whiten them; others to prevent decay and still others to refresh the mouth. Many believe they have acid-mouth or wish to remove the "crust of tartar" which is forming.

Regardless of why you brush your teeth, study the chart above and decide whether the dentifrice you are now trying will do or is doing all that you can reasonably expect from a dentifrice.

If it is, continue to use it faithfully. If it is good for only one of the duties of a good dentifrice, you had better try McK & R Calox, which combines in one dentifrice most of the features of all modern dentifrices.

If you haven't heard the story of McK & R Calox—how it forms real lime-water in your mouth to prevent acids—how it creates fresh active peroxide on the teeth every time you brush them—how it releases genuine oxygen gas which penetrates into every crevice and "gasses" the dangerous decay-germs into harmlessness, if you don't know this story of the victory of modern science, send for "The McK & R Calox Story."

Your dentist will recommend McK & R Calox to you and your druggist has it. Try it next time you need a dentifrice.

The taste is a surprise to most people. It is not the least bit "druggy" which proves that it is possible to make a pleasant tasting dentifrice and that a "strong" taste does not prove the efficiency of any paste or powder.

A New Conference

THE establishment of a bureau in Peking to prepare for a reconstruction conference, marks a new step towards unification. In the north the Government is no longer under the yoke of the Anfuites while in the south the military government has been cancelled by order of Tsen Chun-hsuan, Lu Yung-ting, Moh Yung-hsing and Wen Tsung-yao. It is true that some other leaders of the south have not recognised the cancellation, especially Messrs. Sun Yat-sen, Wu Ting-fang and Tang Shao-yi, and the departure of these three gentlemen for Canton a few days ago would seem to indicate determination on their part to reinstate a military Government in the South, in order to show the North that no mandate for reunification can be worth the paper it is written on without a previous understanding from them.

We learn that these gentlemen have informed the North indirectly that unless the latter will (1) withdraw the mandate for reunification and (2) re-open the peace conference, they will not have anything to do with the north and will separate Kwangtung and Yunnan provinces from the union.

We however, doubt the wisdom of this policy for the following reasons:

1.—China does not need peace. She has had it all the time. Th North and South have not been fighting a civil war. As we pointed out the other day, it is really a sort of quarrel among brothers who have disagreed as to how the house should be run.

2.—What difference does it make to the South whether the mandate for reunification is withdrawn or not? From a practical point of view, it will be unwise on part of these Southern leaders to keep the country disrupted merely because the North has issued a reunification mandate without a previous understanding from all the parties. It is quite immaterial to the actual work of the conference whether the word reconstruction shall replace the word peace.

3.—What both North and South should give full attention to is the size of the present army. The Southern leaders will accomplish a great if not the greatest thing for their country by arranging with the north to disband half or even two-thirds of the army. These huge armies are not maintained for the purpose of protecting the country, but merely to maintain individual militarists in power. It is no use to talk about the abolition of the tuchunate. The disbandment of the army must come first. The abolition of the tuchunate would simply mean "changing the water and not the medicine."

4.—Means must be provided for the soldiers who are to be disbanded. Most of these soldiers are ordinary coolies who if not taken care of will become bandits.

5.—The common enemy. China's common enemy is doing every thing possible to keep China in disorder. Neither the North nor the south can fight Japan without the aid of the other. The presence of Japanese soldiers in the province of Kienling and along the Chinese Eastern Railway demands unification.

6.—The famine conditions. About forty million people, one-tenth of China's whole population, are starving. The amount of money required for the support of these forty million victims until next havest time, is less than one-fiftieth of the total sum spent by the Chinese Government on soldiers. The Southern leaders will accomplish another great thing for their fellow-countrymen, if they come to terms with the north by sacrificing their personal feelings and making the necessary concessions.

These are some of the main reasons that should lead to a reconstruction conference in the very near future.

General Pershing And David Starr Jordan

Among the scores of answers being received in answer to invitations to attend the All-America Conference in Washington on the Great Red Plague two stand out. One of these was an acceptance and one a "regret."

The acceptance was from General Pershing, who wrote: "The Conference on the Great Red Plague to be held in Washington during the second week in December will deal with one of the important questions which concern the general welfare of the people. It is a disagreeable subject and one that we are prone to push aside and leave to chance; and yet there are few things that bring more unhappiness to the human race. In France, where the physical and moral welfare of our soldiers was of vital importance in order that they might fight with resolute courage and efficiency and be returned to their homes clean and self-respecting, every possible measure was taken to control venereal disease. Rigid regulations were promulgated, but it was due to a general spiritual uplift more than to military prohibitions that our army returned from its victory with a record that has never been equalled by that of any other army in the history of the world.

"We should take every precaution and exercise every good influence to see that our young men and women are free from the ravages of this dread disease, and I sincerely hope the coming conference will do much to accomplish this end."

The "regret" came from David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Leland Stanford University, who wrote:

"I regret that I cannot attend your conference. I haven't the strength to travel that I used to have. I am proud to know, however, that I have helped to give you two members of your administrative committee, Dr. Thomas A. Storey of the United States Inderdepartmental Social Hygiene Board, and Dr. William F. Snow, of the American Social Hygiene Association. I am proud, too, to have been the first to suggest the name "Great Red Plague" for the twin diseases you are attacking."

When Jenny Lind Sang Before The Rising Sun At Sea

An anecdote of Jenney Lind which is not generally familiar is preserved in the form of a footnote in Charles E. Jackson's pamphlet entitled "Some Reminiscences of Bishop Williams, Fourth Bishop of Connecticut," copyrighted in 1915 by its author, and at this time it possesses a peculiar interest. It is as follows:

"The popular Captain West, an officer of one of the great steamship lines, told a Philadelphia friend of mine that during a voyage from England to this country, when he was bringing over the wonderful Swedish singer—Jenny Lind—for, I believe, her first concert tour, she expressed her earnest desire to behold a sunrise at sea.

"Accordingly, one cloudless morning he had her called at early dawn and she stood by his side on deck, silent and motionless, watching every change of shade and tint until the first golden rays shot up from the horizon.

"As the sun itself leaped up from the waves she burst into rapturous song, her deeply religious feeling finding expression in the noble music of Handel's 'Messiah.'

"No wonder that Captain West, when describing the scene, should have exclaimed:

"'No one will ever hear "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" sung as I heard it that morning.'"

This incident of a wonderful artist moved by the majestic beauty of an inspiring natural phenomenon to the utterance of her reverent praise in splendid music fills the imagination and stirs the heart. The captain and a few sailors comprised the only human auditors who heard the singer; of their presence, we may believe, she was unconscious in the ecstasy of her emotion; her voice was lifted for an unseen hearer, to whose might and glory she paid her tribute.

The Postponement Of Life: I.

(By the Spectator)

Don't postpone life!

We spend so much time and energy getting ready to enjoy ourselves that we never enjoy ourselves.

We are like the boy taking a running jump, who ran so far that he couldn't jump.

We are like misers who collect gold so that they may enjoy themselves at fifty and die at forty-nine.

I do not mean "eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die." I do not mean to be spendthrifts, prodigals, wasters and sensualists. I have no use for the philosophy of Omar Khayyam, and think his theory of life no better than that of a Clark street bum, much as I admire his poetry when dressed in Fitzgerald's fancy. I believe the gilded dudes and fringed courtesans that live for today in the sense of crowding all the physical pleasures possible into it miss entirely the good of living.

But what I do mean is that a man ought to get the satisfaction of living into every day. Every day should be full orbed. It should carry with it a piece of its own heaven.

When a man goes to bed at night he ought to be able to look back over the time he has spent since rising and view his day as a completed thing, worth while in itself.

With too many of us today is always a fevered compromise, a makeshift, something to be forgotten as quickly as possible.

We float from tomorrow till tomorrow, with little joy but a sort of reaching joy, a joy in expectancy. All our real good seems future. Of the past we're glad it's past and done. The present we try to get rid of and over with as quickly as we can.

If you know the art of living, the present is always tolerable. Only the weak are tragic. You can always find something in the present situation that can minister to happiness. Only you must be skillful, and know how to discover it. Defeat is childish.

---

The little girl has spoiled her nice new dress. She fell down on the way to the party, and now there's mud all over the pretty white and pink. And she was so proud of it; she was going to have such a glorious time exhibiting it to the other girls! All "driggeldy-draggeldy," she weeps and shudders with racking sobs of mortification and self-pity, as mother takes off the spoiled robe and puts her to bed. The sun shall rise no more. Deep and eternal blackness has settled upon the whole world and the future. The stars are all put out. Life is one awful, hopeless, miserable hole. And the little girl lies utterly wretched at the bottom of the hole.

Of course, we know what her difficulty is. Her vision is too limited. Life contains other things than one pink and white dress. She cannot call up the reserves.

If she could she would not be a child. The inability to see more than one thing at a time and that the thing that is right now and right here is at once the weakness and the charm of children. They would not be so happy if they could see more than the one thing.

---

Of course, Susie has a good home and good health, and a lovely mamma and a grandpapa, and plenty to eat, and a good bed, and a gold watch Uncle Fred gave her, and many other delectable things. But the muddy dress has come like the eclipsing moon between her and the sun of joy.

Do we put away the childishness when we grow up? Is not a large part of our sorrow but the inability to call up our reserves of happiness when routed in one place?

The kitchen maid has left and company is coming. Do you know how to escape from this dilemma smilingly? Can you be glad you are not sick yourself and set the children to work and get up a home-made dinner over which you and the company shall make merry at the futile attempt of a mind to spoil your day? If you can do this you are really grown up.

I knew a man who failed in business when he was over fifty, and he sat down and put his arms about his wife and said to her and the children, "Well, so long as I have you all and the consciousness that I have done the best I could, I'm not going to be discouraged." No man calls for the "old guard" of life like this at the moment when the battle seems lost and is deceived. They rally to him every time, those faithful warriors, Love and Truth and Honor.

'Dante Year' In Italy

The great poet, Dante Alighieri, died on September 14, 1321, and on September 14 there was inaugurated at Ravenna a 'Dante Year,' to end on the six hundredth anniversary of his death next year.

It was at Ravenna that his solemn aspect and his black hair made him a figure of remarkable significance, says the London Daily Telegraph. "They say," remarks one of his biographers, "that the women of Ravenna, looking at him after he had published his 'Inferno,' and wondering at the man who walked in Hell, exclaimed—the reason why his hair is so black and frizzled is that he could not have gone to Hell without returning with his hair a little singed."

We have many accounts of his personality, and they all give the suggestion of a sedate, austere, courteous man, who lived a life apart, bearing upon his shoulders the burden of much philosophical thought—a man, therefore, who should have a grave demeanor and perhaps be a little scornful and intolerant of those who rarely allowed themselves to think, and were content to play on the surface of things.

We call the "Divina Commedia" an epic, but we are conscious that this is hardly the right description to suit Dante's immortal work. If Shelley is right, there have only been three epics in the world—those written by Homer, Dante, and Milton respectively. But this hardly accords with our current attitude towards the 'Commedia,' which we realise to be totally different in method and structure from all other poems of the kind.

Its hero, for instance, is the narrator himself; the episodes are replaced by theological or metaphysical disquisitions; while the world or worlds through which the poet takes his readers are inhabited not with ancestral heroes but with men and women whom Dante knew personally or by repute. The poem distinctly avows no aim of pleasure or delight. It does not exist to please us, but to rebuke, to reprove, to exhort, to help men by teaching them what kind of life will meet with reward or with penalty in the dim hereafter. It is the strangest poem that was ever composed, partly because it is so daring in its treatment of contemporary history, for Dante places his enemies without the slightest compunction in the most tormented spots in Hell; and partly because, taken as a whole, the comedy incarnates the spirit of mediæval Christianity.

Mr. E. J. Harrison

(Japan Chronicle)

Friends of Mr. E. J. Harrison, who was for many years associated with foreign journalism in this country, and whose well-known book, "Peace or War East of Baikal," is a mine of information on a most complicated subject, will be interested to hear that he is now British Consul at Kovno, in Poland. When the war broke out Mr. Harrison was in Vladivostok in Russian newspaper work. He went over to Petrograd, and did a good deal of journalistic work for the Times and other papers, but, the conditions not being all that his adventurous spirit demanded, he at length gave it up, and returned East, with a manuscript book on Russia which, we believe, is not yet published. In 1917 he joined the Chronicle staff, but, when the Labor Battalion made openings for men beyond military age, he seized the opportunity to get to the front. After being for some time with his battalion in France, his ability as a linguist was recognised and he was appointed to accompany the British Mission to Archangel. There he was to edit a paper, for among his other linguistic acquirements is a thorough knowledge of Russian; but though the War Office provided an editor it forgot to supply the type and plant. In default of his journalistic talents being available, Mr Harrison performed various services with the British Mission, and accompanied it when it was withdrawn to Poland. As we have stated, he is now British Consul at Kovno, where we should imagine his position is far from a happy one, but we have no doubt he is as energetic as ever and probably amassing materials for another book. Mr. Harrison took much interest in Ju-jitsu or Judo, and has published an interesting work on the fighting spirit of Japan. He holds a high degree in Judo, and his muscular development is remarkable. No doubt he has found his knowledge of Judo stand him in good stead during the last few years of his adventurous life.

Roosevelt On The Future Of Japan

Viscount Kaneko Recalls A Memorable Conversation

(Japan Advertiser)

At this opportune moment, when the relations of Japan and America are undergoing some strain, Viscount Shibusawa has issued a bi-lingual edition of Theodore Roosevelt's memorable letter to Mr. J. B. Millet on "What the Japanese stood for in the World War." The letter has already been printed in the Advertiser. It is the work of a statesman who had a very true esteem for the Japanese people—an esteem which they valued the more as it was not based on superficial impressions but on a close study. The edition which Viscount Shibusawa has issued is handsomely turned out in permanent form and it is intended to circulate it among influential persons. Viscount Kaneko, Viscount Ishii and Viscount Shibusawa have written introductory notes and Viscount Shibusawa has added some information regarding Japan's financial assistance to the Allies during the war.

In his introduction Viscount Kaneko gives an interesting account of a conversation he had in 1905 with President Roosevelt on the future of Japan. What the President said, according to Viscount Kaneko's recollection, is as follows:

"First. The whole world stands in admiration of the spirit of loyalty and patriotism, not only of Japanese soldiers and sailors, but of all the Japanese at the time of the Russo-Japanese War. However, there is always a great danger for the people of a victorious nation, because the consciousness of victory gives them the swelled head. They become overbearing, and disregard other people. Therefore I would advise the Japanese to guard against this danger. The history of the German people after the Franco-Prussian War in 1870, and that of the American people after the Spanish War in 1898, are good examples.

POPULATION PROBLEM

"Secondly. In future, serious trouble between Japan and America will arise from Japanese immigration in California. The means of preventing this trouble is to send the Japanese immigrants whom the Californians dislike to the continent of Asia and the South Sea Islands instead of to the Pacific coast. With some such understanding, the United States Government will uphold the rights and privileges to which the Japanese in America are entitled. By a mutual understanding the traditional, cordial friendship between America and Japan will be maintained and strengthened. Moreover the American Government must sometime realise the necessity of changing the national organisation to conform with worldwide conditions, and so bring matters relating to the treaty rights of foreigners in America under the direct control of the Federal Government instead of the State Legislatures, thereby safe-guarding the rights and privileges of foreign residents in America.

"Thirdly. The American Government many years ago adopted the Monroe Doctrine by making the Atlantic Ocean a dividing zone to avoid complications with European nations. This policy has enabled the United States to attain its present prosperity and power. Now to one watching the progress of relations between America and Japan, it would seem better for the two nations to set up the Pacific Ocean as a dividing zone, allowing America to maintain her Monroe Doctrine towards the North and South American continents, and Japan to adopt her Monroe Doctrine for the Asiatic continent and pursue her own national policy there."

VISCOUNT KANEKO'S TRIBUTE

These are the "watchwords" says Viscount Kaneko, which Col. Roosevelt gave me fifteen years ago, and I cannot but wonder at his far-sighted vision of the future relations of America and Japan! Until now I have kept these matters private, but being deeply impressed by the earnestness of Viscount Shibusawa in publishing this book, I can no longer keep them to myself only, so by this preface I now give them to the public. If Colonel Roosevelt were living today he would have said these things himself; but alas for the world! he now lies forever in his silent tomb in a lonely corner at Oyster Bay! Therefore I, as a sincere and admiring friend of his take the liberty of publishing his views and letting my fellow-countrymen know how fair and upright the great statesman was in his attitude towards Japan and the Japanese!

"O, sincere and esteemed friend! O, firm and true friend of the Japanese people! If this publication be in any way against thy will, for the sake of our life-long friendship I beg thy forgiveness!

"As I write this, my breast heaves with uncontrollable emotion. So I throw down my pen and sit alone in my seashore home, gazing far away toward the other side of the great Pacific, overwhelmed with the memories of him who was once with us, but is now no more!"

Far East News Notes

ROYALTY WILL VISIT JAPAN NEXT YEAR

It is reported that the King of Siam will visit Japan in the autumn of next year. His original intention was to visit the country this year, but a bereavement which he experienced some time ago obliged him to postpone his visit.

All preparations for his reception being completed, the Japanese Court is said to have forwarded a telegram to the Court of Siam, expressing a desire for the King's visit. The Japanese Court is also informally notified that the Prince of Wales will visit Japan early in 1922.

AMERICANS ARE FEWER IN PHILIPPINES OFFICES

Only two government bureaus are now headed by Americans in the Philippines, the resignation of Irving S. Dexter having recently been accepted from his position as Insular Auditor.

The bureau of education is administered by an American, Luther Bewley, as acting director, and the bureau of science also has an American chief, Dr. Elmer D. Merrill. All other government offices of importance except the position of governor general are now administered by Filipinos.

EARLY MORN INSPECTION FOR YOKOHAMA POLICE

Mr. K. Omori, chief of the Yokohama police force, called out the entire force at 3 o'clock on the morning of November 17 and ordered them to Kamoyama Park for inspection. There were no cars running at this hour and many of the men had a walk of several miles to reach the appointed place. No previous instructions had been given to the policemen and they were in ignorance of the nature of the call when they arrived at the park.

The explanation given by Mr. Omori for inspecting the force at the unusual hour is that petty crimes are becoming too frequent throughout the city, especially on the Bluff and at Nishitobe and it is his desire to have the police exert every effort to put a stop to the operations of the criminals.

Several complaints have been received at the central police station from residents of these districts whose houses have been entered by men claiming to be detectives. The so-called sleuths appropriated money and valuables before leaving the houses. Purse snatching is also becoming frequent. Women are almost invariably the victims and the thief makes his escape before assistance can be called.

NEW MALAYA BISHOP FROM PHILADELPHIA

The Malaysia Message gives an interesting account of the career of Bishop Bickley, the New Bishop for the Methodist Episcopal Church. He served for twenty years in the pastorate of Philadelphia and at the Conference, being made a District Superintendent and also serving as Superintendent of the Philadelphia City Mission and Church Extension Society.

He acted as Secretary for Philadelphia during the Centenary Campaign, and at the last session of the General Conference which met last May in Des Moines, Iowa, was elected Bishop and assigned to Malaya.

He has also been a member of several boards connected with the Church and his arrival is looked forward to keenly by the Methodists of Malaya.

YOKOHAMA RESIDENT DECORATED BY FRANCE

Mr. G. G. Brady of Yokohama, as recently announced, has been granted the Order of Officer d'Academie, chiefly in recognition of his work for the Alliance Francaise, of which body he is one of the Executive.

The medal of the Order was presented to Mr. Brady by Mr. Dejardin, the French Consul, at a dinner given in Mr. Brady's honor by the members of the Executive at the Oriental Palace Hotel, Yokohama, on November 16.

NEW TRAM LINE GOES TO THE HILL IN KOBE

The war, which transformed the Settlement in Kobe, and created new business quarters to the east, made less mark on the Hill.

But the Hill is having its turn now, and the new tramline will transform out of all recognition the district through which it passes. Unfortunately, for the present, destruction of houses is going on much faster than construction, and rents are still liable to go up, while the difficulty of getting houses at any price is increased.

One of the most notable buildings to suffer partial demolition through the coming of the new car line is the Young Men's Christian Association at Shimoyamate-dori. Destruction has already begun.

A new building will be erected near the old site, and it is hoped to finish it in a year.

The many classes run by the Association will be accommodated temporarily in other buildings, some of them in the Palmore Institute.

SEAPLANE MADE IN JAPAN TO BE TESTED

The first seaplane of Japanese make has been completed by the Aichi Electrical Machinery and Watch Company in Aichi Prefecture, and the trial flying will be made shortly utter the supervision of the naval flying corps at Yokusuka. According to the Nichi Nichi, if the result of the trial flight proves satisfactory, the manufacture of machines of this type for the navy will be undertaken on a large scale.

Work on the sea-plane just completed was started towards the end of September by Lieutenant Umiya, a retired officer. Wednesday he was to make a trial flight, but the plan was changed and it was decided to send the machine to Yokosuka for trial by the naval officers.

The new sea-plane, which is designed to accommodate two passengers, measures three meters and half in height, 15 meters and half in width and 10 meters in length.

If naval orders are obtained, the management of the Aichi Electric Machinery and Watch Company expects to extend its factory so that machines to the number of 10 per month may be turned out. It is stated that the company has under contemplation a plan to manufacture motors.

ANTI-JAP LITERATURE PRINTED IN YOKOHAMA

The sensational Hochi says that some kinds of literature distributed in America for anti-Japanese propaganda have recently been traced to a certain printing office in Yokohama under foreign management.

According to the Tokio journal, some anti-Japanese literature disseminated in America describes the customs and manners in Japan so minutely and accurately that it has always been obvious that these documents were not turned out by Americans at home.

In this connection Police-Inpector Kato, of the Foreign Affairs Section of the Kanagawa Kencho, is quoted by the Hochi as stating that although he was informed that literature of exactly the opposite nature had been printed in Yokohama, he never heard of anti-Japanese literature for distribution among the Californians being produced in that city.

If, however, the report is correct, he sees no great difficulty in discovering the offending printing office.

WOMEN JURIES

The first verdict handed down by an all-soprano Blackstone choir indicates that woman's place is still the home.

A metropolitan jury of co-eds perched on a case in New Jersey where the defendant was charged with abducting her neighbor's kitchen chaperon. The judge couldn't get in a word with an edge warrant, the lawyeress for the culprit swooned in self-defense, and the unfair complainant threatened to burn soft coal when her neighbor is hanging out the Monday wash.

The jury retired four hours to chew over the choice bits of legal gossip, and emerged triumphantly with a new secret. There can be no equity where the presiding judge still owes the forelady of the jury a cup of borrowed sugar.

A panel of 300 citizenesses were crossly-questioned before the court could find twelve good women and true who were on speaking terms.

The jury held a quick raffle on the disputed stove chauffeur, and Juror Number Six won her. The judge reversed the decision of the lower sewing circle, grabbed the rolling pin gymnast herself and now there are twelve new spite fences blooming in our sister State of sister jurors.

Both lawyeresses made splendid speeches simultaneously. A blonde juror who fainted was fined for usurping the prerogatives of the court.

The beautiful judge held the prisoner in contempt, which made it even.

At the finish of the case the dish breaker had twelve new jobs waiting for her, and the judge was looking hairpins and manicuring files at the jury.

Showing that equal suffrage is all right, but jury duty should be left to the boys. A woman can be fair on most things, but unfair on more. The law was made for everybody. And so were motor cars.

But only a chauffeur should run 'em.

Last Friday the electrical senior class took an inspection trip to the Edison Lamp Factory at Robinson Road. Prof. G. Thompson led the party. By the courtesy of the factory, many samples and raw materials for the manufacturing were brought back.

A news bureau was organised to furnish the news of the college to THE CHINA PRESS and some Chinese papers weekly. Mr. Jameson Y. Chang is in charge now.
